THE London Globe believes that if a poll could be taken of the wives of England on the subject of legalizing marriage with a deceased wife's sister, the result would be largely against it.

A ONE-EYED man in Paris gets his living by exhibiting the lost eye, which he has preserved in spirits of wine. He lost it when a child by an unsuccessful attempt of his father to play William Tell.

THE Franklin Agricultural Club has induced a number of Swedish laborers to go to work on the farms around that city, where they give entire satisfaction. Every laborer carries a Swedish German dictionary with him; and every farm owner is provided with a German-Swedish one.

THE Japanese are quarreling over two forms of religion. The Government says the people shall not be Budhists, but that the national religion shall be Shintoism. The Shintos are more tolerant of Christianity than the Budhists, consequently foreigners approve the declaration of the Government in their favor.

A PARISIAN lady recently called on her milliner to inquire the character of a servant. The morality of the latter was beyond questioning. "But is she honest?" asked the lady. "I am not so certain of that," replied the milliner "I have sent her to you with my bill a dozen times, and she has never yet given me the money."

NAPOLEON, while visiting a carriage manufactory in Paris, the other day, was approached by a workman, a native of Corsica, who remarked, with familiarity enough, that they were cousins, since a Bonaparte married one of his ancestresses in the last century. "My cousin," said the Emperor, "I am incognito—be you equally so?"

THE four hundredth birthday of Albert Durer falls on the 21st of May, 1871. It has been proposed to celebrate the day by an exhibition of his collected works—paintings, sketches, engravings, woodcuts, etc., which at present are scattered over the whole world, in his native city, Nuremberg. The proposition has been to send photographs of such pictures as could not be forwarded.

A FEARFUL ride on a bell was lately taken by a lad in the village of Fully, canton Valois, Switzerland. He was seated on the bell when the ringer commenced to pull it. Not able to hold on, he fell from the tower, and was picked up senseless about thirteen feet from the church. In his fall he had broken two wooden crucifixes. Strange to say, he was hardly hurt, but could relate his own adventures a few minutes after the event.

AN American traveller in Italy has dumb-founded the government by seriously proposing to lease Mount Vesuvius. He says he will make roads and lay out pleasure grounds upon its rocky sides, build hotels and set up soda fountains on its summit, and help visitors up and down by machinery. To pay him for all this outlay, and amass a fortune besides, he will charge a small admission fee from all who wish to step up and see the show.

A DUEL has recently taken place at Athens between the French Minister, Baron Baude, and M. Demetrius Soutzo, ex-military commander of the city and brother of the late chief of the Department of War. Baude, at the funeral of Mr. Herbert, one of the Marathon victims, made an insulting remark which was overheard by Soutzo, who dared the French representative to repeat it; this he did, and a hostile meeting ensued, but it did not lead to any serious result.

THIS wickedness is circulated in American circles in Rome: "Our Father who art in the Vatican; Infallibility be thy name. Thy temporal sovereignty come, thy will be done, in Europe and America as it is in Ireland. Give us this day our tithes and titles, and forgive us our trespasses as we give plenary indulgence to those who pay penitently unto us; and lead us not into Ecumenical Councils, but deliver us from thinking; for thine is the crozier, and the keys, and the tiara, Rome without end, Amen."

MARK LEMON, the editor of Punch, now deceased, was an extremely corpulent man—so corpulent that he lately played the part of Falstaff without using "padding" or stage devices of any kind. He made his own obesity a constant subject of jest, in common with what he was pleased to describe as his other chief peculiarity—an incurable impecuniosity. Some half-funny, half sad verses of his appeared in one of the Christmas annuals last year, on the subject of his fat figure and his lean purse.

A PECULIAR branch of industry flourishes in the Muldenthal, Germany, between Zwickau and Glauchau. This is the growing of willows for basket-makers. The dearest kind, the green osier, goes chiefly to Bavaria, and is there used for basket work. The coarser sort are made into ordinary baskets, etc., in the valley where it is grown. The acre of willows brings in about a hundred dollars, but requires a great amount of care and work in its cultivation. This industry has been carried on there ever since the twelfth century.

THERE is a great, incurable and increasing deficiency in the Roman finances. A yearly deficit of thirty million francs has to be covered, and the Peter's pence, which in 1861 amounted to fourteen million francs, have sunk to about eleven million francs, although collections are made twice a year. No further assistance can be expected from loans, but a great rise in the amount of the Peter's pence is hoped for. In Rome hopes are entertained that when the Pope has been pronounced infallible, larger sums will be subscribed than hitherto.

THE Board of Trade of Great Britain, in an official communication to the Foreign Office, states that the Board is of opinion that the sentence of Capt. Eyre, by the English Court, at Yokohama, to a suspension of six months, is "inadequate to the gravity of the offence. The Board does not consider itself justified in commencing criminal proceedings against Captain Eyre, but says that the United States Government, or those who suffered loss by the death of relatives, may bring suit for damages against the owners of the Bombay, to settle the question of the bad navigation of that vessel.

THE Gazetta di Torino announces from Rome that the Bishop of Mayence called lately on Cardinal Antonelli and protested against the arbitrary seizure by the Roman police of a work from the pen of a learned German theologian against the dogma of Papal Infallibility, copies of which had been forwarded by post to all the Fathers of the Council. The Papal Secretary of State begged for time to consider the matter, but Bishop Ketteler declared that if the seizure were not revoked within two days he would set out for Naples, get the work reprinted there, and distribute the copies in Rome himself.

IN Paris every theatre has a foyer attached to it, that is a large hall with inlaid floors and walls ornamented with statues of authors and actors, and here the whole audience promenade between the acts. As nearly every great opera and theatre has two complete companies, the actors, on off nights, mingle among the habitues of the theatre in the foyer, and thus become thoroughly known and identified in the course of a few years by everybody. Elegantly dressed they are the centres of admiring and spirituel crowds, wherein all that is new and striking in the intellectual world of Europe is generally discussed.

A REMAKABLE centenary will shortly be celebrated in Saxony. Professor Dr. Wilhelm Traugott Krug (born on the 22d of June, 1770,) was one of the noblest men of Saxony. Krug was the one who, as representative of the University of Leipsic, at the Saxon Landtag, gave the first impulse toward the emancipation of the Jews in Saxony, and during his whole life he labored for this end. In remembrance of him (since what he strove for has been attained,) a committee has been formed to organize a Krug Fund, from which students at the University of Leipsic—without difference of confession, though with preference to Krug's co-religionists, shall be supported by stipends. Considerable sums are said to have been already received. The committee are Chief Rabbi Dr. Landen and Advocate Lehman, &c., of Leipsic.

Attack on a Jail—The Assailants Repulsed.

[From Knoxville Press and Herald, May 31.]

We learn the following particulars of a bloody affray which occurred last Sunday morning in Williamsburg, Whitley county, Kentucky.

It appears that a man named Owens was incarcerated in the jail in that town. About daybreak on Sunday, the father of Owens, with thirty armed men, made an attack on the jail for the purpose of releasing Owens. The guards, nine in number, resisted, and, after considerable firing, drove the assailants off, and succeeded in capturing eight of them. During the fighting, Owens' father, who is a very muscular man, seized one of the guards, who had ventured too far from the jail, and swore he would murder him, and dragged him down to the river bank for that purpose. His murderous intentions were frustrated, however. Another of the guards witnessing his comrade's peril, pursued and fired at the old man. The shot passed through the coat of the first guard and struck the elder Owens in the face. In the confusion the guard made his escape.

One of the eight prisoners was severely wounded in the side. A mask was found in front of the jail, after the assailants had been driven off, which bore the marks of having been shot through, and it is supposed the wearer of it was mortally wounded.

The affair created the most intense excitement in the town. Pursuit was immediately given by the citizens, and it was expected that the greater number of the desperadoes would be caught. One of the prisoners was hung, with the intent of getting the names of the assailing party, but he refused to tell, and he was cut down before life was extinct and recovered. A company of military is expected, to prevent further attacks on the jail.

The Oil Excitement.

During the latter part of the past and all of the present week the oil excitement in this region has been very high. This has all been brought about by the striking of several new wells and the improvement of some older ones.

A well on the land of John Marshall, in Lawrenceburg, the Chance Shot, which on Monday flowed at the rate of one hundred barrels a day—was the subject of much talk and speculation.

The Priscilla, a well in Lawrenceburg, which was torpedoed several weeks ago, and has since been pumping some fifty barrels per day, also has a tendency to excite the feelings of capitalists.

Another new well in Lawrenceburg, the Central, owned by Wilson Taylor and others, makes an excellent start, and seems destined to be one of the best wells in this district.

The Forquer, No. 4, on the hill north of Church run, which was recently torpedoed, is now actually pumping one hundred barrels per day, would also go to show that the oil is not being all exhausted in this region. Parker's Landing is now the principal oil district out of the whole number. Not only is there more oil produced by the wells, but the capitalist is more certain of receiving a handsome interest on his investment in this, than he is in any other oil region.—Lawrenceburg Independent.

OWING to the energetic measures taken by the Administration in suppressing the Fenian raid, Minister Thornton has received instructions from London to sound the Government as to its willingness for renewing the negotiations regarding the Alabama claims. The Gladstone Cabinet appear to be exceedingly desirous to have this vexed question settled at an early day, and is now more disposed than ever to listen to any new proposition from Washington.

A MAGNETIC well has been bored at Michigan Centre. The well is 235 feet below the surface. The Jackson Citizen of the 1st says: "Eight days ago Mr. Pangborn suspended a common darning-needle in a bottle of the water, and the needle immediately became a magnet, and is now covered with iron of considerable thickness." A chemical analysis of the water is to be made.

ANXIETY AMONG ISRAELITES.

The Israelite citizens are much disturbed by the unconfirmed rumors of wholesale butcheries in Roumania. Telegrams sent to Sir Samuel Montefiore, in London, and M. Cremieux, President of the Jewish Society in Paris, begging the fullest and latest information, have not yet been answered. The Jewish Rabbis preached on the subject yesterday, one of them expressing the hope that the reports would prove incorrect, and another stating as a fact that instead of the Jews monopolizing trade in Roumania and becoming very rich, they are so heavily taxed as to render it impossible, and that they are not permitted to own even a foot of land or a house to live in. The absence of further information tends to augment the quite general belief that the reports are at least greatly exaggerated.

PHILADELPHIA, June 4.—At the final session of the Presbyterian General Assembly this morning, the report on publication was adopted.

The docket was cleared of various reports and overtures, being referred to the next General Assembly, to the Committee of Twenty-one, or indefinitely postponed.

The Board of Publication was authorized to meet on the second Thursday of June, in Philadelphia.

Resolutions were adopted calling the attention of parents to the catechising of children.

The pay of the stated clerk was fixed at $400, and the salary of the permanent clerk at $300 per annum. The payment of fifty dollars each to the permanent and stated clerk of the last Assembly at Pittsburgh, for extra work, was ordered.

The report of the Joint Committee on Ministerial Relief was adopted with slight alterations.

The business of the session was closed by the singing of the doxology. The closing hours were occupied with speeches by several prominent commissioners.

The Moderator officially dismissed the Assembly about half-past twelve o'clock. Many of the commissioners immediately left for their homes.

RICHMOND.

Ex-Mayor Cahoon et al. Indicted for Forgery and Conspiracy—Decision by Chief Justice Chase.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

RICHMOND, June 4.—The Grand Jury to-day indicted George Cahoon, ex-Mayor, for forgery, and Johnson H. Sands and Richard S. Sanxay, two ex-confederate officers, for conspiracy to defraud the State of $7,000, the amount due the State from the estate of Jacob Hornstein. It is charged that these parties afterwards appropriated the estate to their own use. Cahoon was arrested this afternoon and bailed in $10,000. The others are not in custody. Officers were sent after them.

In a suit originating in the United States Circuit Court, Chief Justice Chase decides that the Government of Virginia, organized at Wheeling and subsequently established in Richmond, having been recognized by the United States, thus constituted as valid the acts of said government. Consequently a suit brought against the authorities of the town of Harrisonburg, who were not superceded by United States authorities, for alleged false imprisonment in discharge of municipal duties, cannot be transferred from the State to the Federal court.

A Jew's Difficulties.

A very merry affair is reported to have taken place near the Jewish Cemetery near Hamburgh. It was noticed that the indestructible race of Schnorrers with an eye to profit out of every opportunity, are not too lazy to undertake the rather long journey from the city to the cemetery, and once there they plague the mourners by their importunities. It was at last resolved to prevent such scenes, and a Jewish policeman was engaged to keep these petitioners at a respectable distance.

The policeman appeared, posted himself at the gate of the cemetery—but the Schnorrers passed in like locusts, and mercilessly attacked the mourners, who in vain looked to the policeman for assistance.

One of the officers of the cemetery at last hastened to the policeman, and addressed him in a not over-friendly tone, "What are you here for?" Why don't you come in and chase off these "Schnorrers?" "I cannot!" "And why, if you please?" Well I am a Cohen, a descendant of Aaron, and am not permitted to enter a cemetery."

The officers of the cemetery did not relish much a Cohen as a policeman; nor did they much like the Schnorrers, who, by this time returned to the city, well satisfied with the result of their trip.

GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, June 4.—The Shipping Gazette has a vigorous leader on the extortion practiced upon vessels arriving at Cuban ports under the pretense of fines for the evasion of customs regulations. The Gazette invokes a joint protest against this outrage on the part of England and the United States.

The Admiralty begins three new iron clad vessels at Chatham navy yard immediately, one to be called Raleigh, 5,000 tons burthen, and to carry twenty-seven heavy guns broadside. The others will be small light draft steamers, to operate around the coast and in harbors.

The steamers Cuba and Columbia have arrived out.

The Spectator asks indignantly if the Government exchanged Gambia for a worthless tract adjoining Sierre Leone.

The Saturday Review admits the ill taste and uselessness of Lindsay's address in reference to the action of President Grant.

The Daily News hopes Mr. Lindsay's address to the troops has been misrepresented by the telegrams.

General George Napier to-day publishes in the newspapers a fresh endorsement of Canadian courage and loyalty.

LONDON, June 5.—Dispatches from the United States announce the receipt there of reports of massacres of Jews by Christians in Roumania. No advices have reached here on the subject, and the continental news agencies deny there have been any recent outrages upon the Jews of Roumania. A dispatch from Bucharest states a riot occurred last week at Batuschaly, a village in Moldavia, during a local election. It is described as an ordinary political disturbance which was quelled without the interference of troops.

There is much rejoicing here over the release of the English captives in Spain.

SPAIN.

MADRID, June 4.—The Englishmen who were captured by Spanish brigands near Gibraltar, some time ago, have been tracked by an emissary of the Government. The prisoners were in good health and well treated. Their final release was only a matter of money. The Government has already commenced negotiations with the robbers, but the subject is replete with difficulties, and it is feared no result will be reached for several weeks.

PARIS, June 4.—The proceedings in the Spanish Cortes yesterday were highly important. Almost the entire session was devoted to the consideration of the question of a future ruler. At length a proposition was made by one member, that no candidate for King be considered fairly elected unless he receives a majority equal to half the full number of the deputies in Cortes. Amid the most enthusiastic applause it was resolved to take this proposition into consideration, by a vote of 106 to 98, and the Cortes adjourned. This vote is very significant. It is regarded as equivalent to the defeat of Montpensier, who has only eighty-nine votes in the Cortes, and who, if this amendment is adopted, will require one hundred and seventy-nine to be elected.

MADRID, June 5.—Espartero has written a letter stating that he will refuse the crown even if the Cortes decree it to him.

The Englishmen captured by Spanish brigands have been rescued and arrived at Gibraltar.

CUBA.

HAVANA, June 5.—The Monitor Terror, convoyed by the United States sloop of war Tuscarora, arrived yesterday from Key West.

HAVANA, June 5.—The Captain General telegraphs the filibustering expedition which sailed from New York on the steamer George B. Upton, disembarked at Punto Brava, a few miles east of Muritas. They were attacked by a Spanish force one hundred strong, assisted by two gunboats and dispersed, losing ten killed, including Captain Harrison. Two more were drowned and three taken prisoners. A steam launch, rubber rafts, and the entire cargo of arms, ammunition and medicine, which had been landed, were captured, with some correspondence.

The Spanish naval commander telegraphs the munitions captured consist of two tons of powder, over 100,000 cartridges and 1,700 rifles.

Cisneras, who commanded the expedition, had sailed on the Upton with the balance of her cargo for Columbia, for the purpose of bringing back an expedition of two hundred Colombians.

The editor of the Voz D'Cuba states that the six tons of gunpowder, two thousand rifles and entire material of the Upton expedition fell into the hands of the troops, and that several prisoners taken were at once executed. None of the dispatches state when the landing was effected.

FRANCE.

PARIS, June 4.—In the Corps Legislatif, yesterday, members of the Left having demanded the right of public meeting during elections for Councils General, M. Ollivier refused making this Cabinet question the order of the day for to-day. The Deputies who yesterday voted by a large majority against the Ministry, to-day unanimously voted in its favor, except the members of the Left, who abstained from voting. The success of Ollivier to-day averts a ministerial crisis.

Benedetti, Minister to Prussia, who recently had leave of absence to visit Paris, has received an order to return to Berlin forthwith.

The Chamber of Accusation of the High Court of Justice yesterday returned indictments against a number of persons who had been finally remanded before the High Court for trial. Forty-seven are indicted for conspiracy against the State and the life of the Emperor, twenty-two for an attempt against the safety of the State, three for pillage of private property in numbers and with open force, one for attempt to pillage, one for attempt to murder, one for assassination, two for inciting to attempt against the life of the Emperor and one for complicity in the same crime.

ITALY.

ROME, June 4.—Yesterday, upon the demand of one hundred and fifty of the Fathers in the Ecumenical Council, the end of the discussion on schema de primate et infallibilati was pronounced. On Monday the discussion of chapters will commence.

LONDON, June 5.—Advices from Rome report a violent scene in the Council last week between Bishop Maret, the well-known Gallican prelate, and Cardinal Billo, during the discussion on the infallibility question. Bitter language was used and much excitement created.

THE CAPITAL.

Appointments—Wayne McVeagh Confirmed as Minister to Turkey—The Case of Ashley, Governor of Montana—Small-Pox Among Crow Indians—The Red Men Visitors—Disability Bill—Tennessee Reconstruction—The Revenue Service—Commerce and Navy, &c., &c.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, June 4, 1870.

APPOINTMENTS.

The President sent the following nominations to the Senate to-day: Benj. V. Abbott, of New York, Chas. P. James, of District of Columbia, and Victor C. Baninger, of New York, Commissioners to revise and consolidate the statutes of the United States; Edwin L. Barnes, United States Attorney for Western District of Texas.

APPOINTMENT CONSIDERED.

The Senate to-day confirmed Wayne McVeagh as Minister to Constantinople, and then took up for consideration the nomination of Benjamin F. Potts, of Ohio, for Governor of Montana, vice Jas. M. Ashley, who is to be removed. A discussion, lasting nearly two hours, ensued, in which Messrs. Sherman, Morton, Howe and others spoke in favor of the confirmation of the nomination, and Messrs. Sumner, Nye, Cameron and others opposed it. Without a vote the Senate adjourned.

SMALL POX AMONG INDIANS.

General Sully, Superintendent of Indian Affairs for Montana, writes to Commissioner Parker from Helena, May 25th, that the River Crows have the small pox very badly among them, and are scattered in small parties all over the country. Their agent has tried every inducement to have the Crows vaccinated, but without avail, as they strenuously refuse, saying it was bad medicine. General Sully has written the agent to remove the Crows away from the agency ten miles, and do all he can to prevent any intercourse between them and other Indians.

SHOWING THE RED MEN AROUND.

Red Cloud and other Sioux chiefs were to-day taken to the Arsenal and Navy Yard, at the latter place witnessing some firing of heavy Parrott guns. They appeared more interested in needle rifles at the Arsenal than in the cannon. They inspected the monitors very carefully, but declined to participate in luncheon at the residence of Admiral Dahlgren. Secretary Robeson and a regiment of marines received the party at the Navy Yard.

DISABILITY BILL.

Senator Robertson, Chairman of the Select Committee on Political Disabilities, this morning reported a bill for the relief of more than six thousand persons named therein and described as residents of some eighteen different States and the District of Columbia.

WASHINGTON, June 5, 1870.

THE TENNESSEE QUESTION.

It is regarded as improbable that Congress will act at this session upon the question of the reconstruction of Tennessee.

THE REVENUE SERVICE.

The Secretary of the Treasury has sent to the Senate a report of a special commission, proposing an appropriation of $300,000 for the construction of five new steamers for the revenue service to supplant five now in use, but insufficient, and the sale of six of the sailing vessels. It is proposed to have twenty steamers and three sailing vessels for the Atlantic and Gulf coasts, three steamers and two schooners on the Pacific coast, and four steamers on the Lakes. Total officers 183 and crews 878, and annual expenditure $748,620.

OUR COMMERCE AND NAVY.

Governor Geary, of Pennsylvania, has addressed a letter to Vice Admiral Porter, strongly sympathizing with him in his desire for prompt and liberal legislation by Congress, and states that to revive our commerce and navy he believes in the establishment of iron ship building yards by the Government and in the seeking of our revenge for the destruction of our commerce by British vessels during the rebellion in the more honorable driving of British commerce from the Ocean by the creation of superior ships.

SUPPLIES FOR INSURGENTS.

The friends of Cuba say large quantities of arms have been dispatched to the insurgents and additional supplies will soon be sent.

ELECTION CASES.

There are six or eight contested election cases yet to be called up in the House and ten or fifteen to be reported on.

OBITUARY.

Ex-United States Marshal Jonah D. Hoover died to-day aged 48.

XLIST CONGRESS.

(SECOND SESSION.)

WASHINGTON, June 4, 1870.

SENATE.

Mr. THAYER introduced a bill authorizing the Pacific Railroad Company to take up coal lands necessary to operate the road.

Mr. RAMSEY reported, from the Pacific Railroad Committee, a bill to encourage the construction of the International Pacific Railroad of Texas, containing no appropriation of land or money.

Mr. WILLIAMS called up his joint resolution for the increase of compensation of census takers, which was discussed without further action than the rejection of several amendments.

The Indian Appropriation bill came up at the expiration of the morning hour.

An amendment appropriating $30,000 for the purchase of wagons, teams, agricultural implements, live stock, seeds, and for the erection of houses for Indians in the Northern Superintendency coming up, the Indian Quaker policy was reviewed at some length.

The pending amendment was finally carried—yeays 33, nays 12.

The Senate at 3:40 went into executive session and at six o'clock adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Mr. WINCHESTER presented a petition of one hundred and twenty firms of Louisville, Ky., for the reduction of the tax on manufactured tobacco to sixteen cents per pound.

Mr. BROOKS introduced a bill to provide for carrying mails between the United States and the west coast of South America, granting a subsidy of $31,250 for each round voyage. Referred.

Mr. HOOPER, from Committee of Ways and Means, reported a bill for the appointment of an Assistant Treasurer of the United States at Baltimore.

Mr. FINKLENBURG introduced a joint resolution concerning the arsenal grounds at St. Louis.

Mr. BOYD introduced a joint resolution giving captured ordinance for a monument to Gen. Nathaniel Lyon and other soldiers, at North Springfield, Mo. Passed.

The House proceeded to the consideration of the bill to reduce taxation.

The final section was agreed to, and then Mr. SCHENCK offered as an amendment sections relating to the tariff. He stated that the amendment was offered on his own responsibility, and not by order of the Committee of Ways and Means. He modified the amendment in various particulars, comprising the following: Reducing the duty on tea to fifteen cents per pound, and on coffee to three cents per pound. The date in the first section is amended to January 1, 1871. He stated that the reduction of revenue by these changes would be $20,000,000, and that of internal revenue $40,000,000. He moved the previous question on the first section.

Mr. ELDRIDGE moved the point of order that the House had a right to vote on each paragraph in this section.

The Speaker overruled the point of order.

The House refused to second the previous question—80 to 83.

Mr. SCHENCK then withdrew the amendment and moved the previous question on the passage of the bill to reduce taxation.

Points of order were raised on the question whether the amendment could be withdrawn, and overruled.

Mr. SCHENCK withdrew the previous question and again moved the amendment, after a verbal modification of it by making the date it would go into effect the 30th of December, 1870, and on that demanded the previous question.

This time, amid much excitement, the previous question was seconded—90 to 82.

After some filibustering the main question was ordered—93 to 88.

During the discussion which followed, Mr. ELDRIDGE stated the opposition wanted a vote on Bessemer steel, while Mr. RANDALL wanted no tax whatever on tea and coffee.

Mr. COVODE said the free trade men were filibustering to prevent a reduction of duties, and charged upon his colleague (Mr. Woodward) that he had made a noble tariff speech to influence voters at home and was now voting with free traders on all occasions. He (Mr. Covode) had taken last fall 3,000 votes from Mr. Woodward on the Labor question, which alarmed him so much that he went to work and made a tariff speech. His colleague's position on the tariff question was in harmony with the position he took when he wanted Pennsylvania arrayed against the north and with rebels, and when he seceded from his Church because his preacher was loyal. [Roars of laughter.] Another colleague of his (Mr. Randall) who was a slight tariff man at home, was voting to-day with men who were trying to impede legislation. He included in his criticisms Mr. Butler, of Massachusetts, whom he had wanted to make President, and his beloved friend, the Chairman of the Committee of Ways and Means. Mr. Covode returned to the charge against his colleague (Mr. Woodward) and declared that gentleman had made a motion and a speech in the Pennsylvania Constitutional Convention in favor of requiring twenty-one years residence of foreigners to entitle them to vote, and was now toadying to the Irish and Dutch.

Mr. KELLEY made the point that his colleague's remarks were not pertinent to the question before the House.

The SPEAKER remarked the gentleman was proceeding only by unanimous consent.

Mr. KELLEY objected to his proceeding any longer.

Mr. WOODWARD rose on the Democratic side of the House, and said when he selected a biographer, the person must be a man of truth, and therefore his colleague had no chance to be selected; and when he debated on this floor, he debated with gentlemen sent here by constituencies, and not with a man who stole his seat from an honest man for the purpose of selling Cadetships. [Laughter, and calls for the regular order.]

Mr. COVODE tried to get the floor to reply, but Mr. WOOD and others objected, and the regular order was insisted upon.

The House resumed its voting on dilatory motions.

During the voting Mr. DAWES, by unanimous consent, reported a joint resolution to amend the law appropriating $40,000 for the survey of the Isthmus of Darien, so it may be expended under the direction of the War or Navy Department. Passed.

Mr. SCHENCK said he desired to report the Funding bill, but he first proposed that by unanimous consent the motion he made to reconsider the vote by which the main question was ordered be laid on the table, and that he then be permitted to report the Funding bill, after which the House should adjourn, with the understanding that on Monday morning it would vote directly on his tariff section.

The proposition was not acceded to.

Mr. SCHENCK then asked unanimous consent to report the Funding bill.

Mr. RANDALL and others objected.

The House subsided into the dullness of voting on dilatory motions.

Mr. LOGAN, from Committee on Military Affairs, reported back the Senate bill appointing managers to the National Asylum for disabled volunteer soldiers, which passed.

Mr. SCHENCK renewed his proposition to report the funding bill and have it read.

Mr. RANDALL objected.

Mr. SCHENCK (putting the bill into his pocket)—Very well; this is a very interesting bill, and you cannot know what it is till Monday.

The final vote was then taken on adjournment and the House adjourned.

Alabama State Auditor Committed for Contempt.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

MONTGOMERY, June 4.—Judge Busteed, of the United States District Court, has committed Reynolds, Auditor of State, to jail five days for contempt of Court, in refusing to obey an injunction restraining him from collecting the two per cent. tax on gross receipts of the Southern Express Company, which was authorized by the State revenue law but enjoined by the District Court. Reynolds was also fined $1,000 and required to refund the amount collected. Reynolds is a leading Republican and an aspirant to the governorship. His friends have called an indignation meeting which it is supposed will help on his claims.

Decoration Day at California, Washington county, Penna.

CALIFORNIA, PA., May 31, '70.

The Grand Army of the Republic had a glorious success yesterday, the 30th. The day was beautiful, and all business was suspended. The proprietors of the boat yard, planing mills, coal works, and the principal stores and work shops, suspended business, and participated with the returned soldiers in the solemn and impressive ceremony of strewing flowers on the graves of fallen comrades, and commemorating the glorious achievements of our arms in the late struggle for the Union.

About two thousand people assembled to witness and participate in the ceremony. The pupils of the Southwestern Normal College, under charge of Professors Gilchrist and Hertzog, and the floral committees appointed for the occasion, escorted the widows and orphans of deceased soldiers and the members of the Grand Army of the Republic from their hall in California to the M. E. Church in Greenfield, where the grand assembly took place. Rev. J. G. Gagley preached a very eloquent and impressive sermon. Professor Hertzog conducted the singing. After the services at the church, the procession, headed by Captain Merdoch's Brass Band, marched through some of the principal streets to the cemetery, where Captain Jas. H. Billingsly and Sargt. Geo. P. Fulton addressed the multitude in a masterly manner.

About three o'clock P. M. the grave of Capt. Samuel Marchand was visited at the family burying ground on the Marchand farm, on the Fayette side of the river. Dr. Burket and Rev. Cox addressed the audience briefly, and Dr. Truxel, late Capt. Company "I," 5th West Virginia Cavalry, delivered an oration. [With a copy of which we have been favored, but which, on account of the crowded state of our columns, we unfortunately can not publish. The oration itself is an eloquent and extremely appropriate production.]

Guns and Boys.

No amount of caution will keep boys from handling guns. It is a fascinating implement. There is a charm about a gun which bewitches a boy's imagination. Guns are now so cheap that everybody can have one. Even if timid persons withhold fowling-pieces from their sons, it will not prevent their handling them. The town is full of them. And accidentally or on purpose, your son will find out something about gunning. The military companies are so many, and the manual of arms so fascinating, and sharp-shooting has become such a fashion, that you may be sure that an average boy will come by a gun clandestinely, if he does not with your permission. Now, we argue that it is far more dangerous to leave boys to find out secretly the pleasures of a gun than it is to teach them its skillful use. A child soon learns caution. After a few weeks, a boy of ten years old is in as little danger of doing mischief with a gun as he is of taking poison or falling into the river, or down stairs, or of stabbing himself with his knife. We hold it to be sound philosophy that children are safer by being taught how to meet danger and overcome it than by seeking to keep them away from all danger. It is not the bold and brave lads that are most apt to be harmed. In wrestling, climbing, swimming, riding, leaping or shooting, they who have been taught skill and self-reliance are seldom injured. It is the clumsy hand, the awkward foot of one untaught in manly exercise that courts disaster. The boy that is familiar with a gun is not the one who snaps it at his sister, thinking that it is not loaded, and shoots her dead. It is the green lubber who has not been permitted to know anything about fire arms that does that. A wise father should teach his boy how to load, how to carry a gun safely, how to scale a fence, and all the peculiarities of the art of hunting. It would be well, too, to teach every girl how to use a pistol. Many a woman has been placed in the power of burglars for lack of that knowledge—Henry Ward Beecher.

Strawberry Short Cake.

Take one pound flour, one teaspoonful salt, mix stiff with cold water, work and wash one-half pound of butter, and divide it into four equal parts; roll out the dough to about one-quarter inch in thickness, spread one part of the butter on it, and dredge it over with Banner Baking Powder; then roll up and out again, and repeat the rolling, spreading and dredging, until the four parts of butter have been used. One measure of the Powder is the proper quantity to use, sprinkling it lightly over the butter each time; when it melts it will cause the Powder to effervesce and puff up the paste; bake in jelly cake pans, in a very hot oven; when done, place in layers, covering each one with strawberries, which have previously been sugared and mashed.

Each can of the Banner Baking Powder contains a small measure to be used even full. By buying this Powder you will always get a perfectly pure article, and you will be enabled to take the exact quantity, which you cannot do with a spoon, there being so many different sizes. Prepared only by Jesse H. Lippincott, corner Smithfield street and Second avenue, Pittsburgh, and sold by dealers throughout Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio.

IT IS NATURAL that throughout the civilized Christian world the deepest horror, indignation and regret should be felt at the recent bloody, wholesale massacre of Jews in Roumania. It is also natural that the Israelites in America should feel their hearts sink and their blood boil when they read of the murder of thousands of their brethren, and should appeal to our Government to interfere, if possible, in their behalf. And yet it is but a century or two since, in all parts of so-called Christendom, the Jew was confined to the vilest parts of any town in which he was permitted to live at all, and, in case of a sudden pest or any other unlooked for calamity, was most liable to fall a victim to the fury of an unreasoning populace. And even now, in the capital of the Christian world, he is only admitted upon suffrance and is obliged to dwell in a low and filthy suburb of the city. The Roumanians are not any farther advanced in civilization or any more truly Christian now than was the rest of Europe at the end of the middle ages, and doubtless they hold the same idea as did those pious old monks who used to thank God that He had given them an opportunity to serve Him by torturing or slaying a Jew, totally overlooking the grandest words of the New Testament, "Father, forgive them, they know not what they do."

IT WAS HARD for Rachel to lose her family and household idols and she did her best to carry them off with her when she and her husband emigrated, and so shrewd was she in guarding these precious evils that she quite deceived and overreached her sharp and tricky father: and in these days it is just as hard to give up cherished beliefs and superstitions as it was in the times of the patriarchs. But the inconoclasts go about with a seeming relish in their work and knock down almost everything that is particularly ancient or venerable. William Tell and Pocahontas have taken their places with the myths of the ancients. Semiramis loses her glory and the noble sons of the forest turn out to be squat and ill favored Spotted Tails and Red Bears. Yet there are plenty to be found who will with ingenuity and a touching adhesion to ancient creeds, uphold all these and the thousand other idols of the Abbot-ical style of historians and we suppose they and their successors will continue to do so as long as the story of Rachel continues to be read. But perhaps the most remarkable illusion under which most of the world has rested, and that because it is so new and fresh, concerns the climate of San Francisco. For years it has been upheld as paradisiacal, and many a time have we listened to or read of discriptions of its loveliness, longed to be able to go and for a time enjoy the very luxury of living. Now, however, we hear of hot suns, driving sands, penetrating winds and an unhealthy dryness that makes life almost insupportable between the frequently recurring earthquakes. So that idol has been found by the penetrating Laban, and we wait to see which one he will get next.

RECKLESSNESS.

Railway accidents are once more in season, and it seems that, like some of the California crops, they come in season more than once a year. Frightful scenes of slaughter and destruction are chronicled in all parts of our land, and, after the funerals are over, the lame and the maimed remain to tell of the broken rail or the misplaced switch which served as instruments with which to fling the great mass of living human beings as a sacrifice upon the altar of the Demon of Recklessness. As has so often been said before, such frightful results of carelessness do not frequently have to be recorded on the continent of Europe. There are railroads of length in some places there, which are among the oldest in the world, and are still guiltless of any passenger's blood. That this immunity is altogether, under Providence, owing to the fact that every means that can be devised by man to insure safety in railroad travel has been adopted is evident, and we then might begin to wonder why our own railroads do not adopt and enforce similar precautions were it not for two facts—first, that our countrymen are of a much more incautious and reckless temperament than the sturdy, steady-going over-crowded Europeans; and second, because of the immense additional expense which such precautions would necessitate in this land of lofty wages and magnificent distances. Yet, we think we do observe a diminution in the number of accidents of this sort, year by year, although new railroads are being laid by the thousands, and the name of daily trains is Legion. We think we can notice a general tendency towards safety, and we doubt not that by the time the land is fully settled, America will be as safe a land for the railroad traveller as is now Belgium or Saxony.

A NAMELESS SLANDERER.

Of all the contemptible and despicable creatures which move about and exist upon the face of the earth, infesting and desolating fair places, the vilest is perhaps the anonymous slanderer. The rattlesnake by his noise and the copperhead by his odor give warning before striking, which they do openly and within reach of an avenging arm. But this human viper hiding himself beneath the mystery of the anonymous and buried in the depth of his own degradation, stings and thrusts, often causing deep and dangerous wounds in which the venom of the weapon soon spreads and ramifies ineradicably. Last week one of these poisonous reptiles, who in all probability had been spurned by society and recognized and rejected as a villain, spawned a pamphlet which he sent by mail into most of the prominent families of the city. This brochure, neatly printed but altogether without mark of artisan or author, and headed with faulty latin, contains ten pages of rhyme without rythm, metre or wit, through which flows a stream of low abuse and spiteful malevolence which seeks to harm many of the most respected and shining lights of our social world. Merchants and gentlemen of fair fame are assailed with scurillous epithets and vile abuse, and not satisfied with this their wives and sisters and daughters are not spared. Young ladies of the highest standing, irreproachable in character and position, are used as targets for some of these attacks; and old social scandals, and gossiping rumors, are coupled with vile insinuations, making perhaps the most contemptible specimen of low and vulgar literature we have ever beheld. Already, in spite of the density of the disguise which the cowardly scribbler has thrown around him, efforts, which promise to be successful, are being made to expose him, and it is to be hoped that before next week, when he threatens to produce a continuation of his slanderous publication, he will be too bruised in body and restrained in liberty to be capable of further present villainy.

PAPAL BAPTISM.

The General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church, which was in session in this city during a part of the past two weeks, performed a large amount of work, and discussed a variety of subjects. Among the subjects which engrossed much of their attention, and occupied a considerable portion of their time, was the validity of baptism as administered by a popish priest.

It is evident from the discussions, as reported in the GAZETTE, that there exists a considerable variety of sentiment among the venerable divines in relation to this subject, which was considered by them to be of so much importance that it has been sent down in overture to the inferior courts or presbyteries, to be deliberated upon for a year. This action was wise, inasmuch as the Assembly, owing to its delegated character, was scarcely competent to pronounce judgment on a subject in relation to which it had received no instructions from the presbyteries of which it is the creature.

We do not propose to enter the arena of theological polemics. We leave the discussion of dogmatic theology to grave and reverend divines. In the Assembly which closed its sessions in the First United Presbyterian Church on Thursday of last week, there is learning and piety enough to guide to a correct and satisfactory conclusion on this subject, which has created no little discussion in the community since it was first mooted by the venerable court. But we do say that it would be a serious matter, on the part of any deliberative body, to declare that Roman Catholics who have been sprinkled and anointed by a priest have not received Christian baptism. Such a declaration would meet with no more general favor than the proclamation of Papal infallibility. We know that there are many learned and good men, both lay and clerical, in connection with the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church, who are not prepared to endorse any such dogma. And we say this with all due deference and becoming respect to the much esteemed and erudite father whose report was discussed so extensively.

We believe that Stephen, Bishop of Rome in the third century, excommunicated the Asiatic Christians, who, in different councils, decreed that "heretics" should be re-baptized before they were received into the communion of the Church. But the African bishops treated Stephen's act with contempt, and declared that baptism administered by "heretics" was invalid. The Council of Nice, however, decreed that those who had been baptized by the hands of heretics might be admitted to the communion of the Church without re-baptism, by the imposition of hands, except such as had not been baptized in the name of the Sacred Trinity. But we are well persuaded that the Assembly, whatever may be their decision next year, will be influenced in their action by a sense of duty and conscientious conviction, and not by a principle of retaliation.

During the progress of the discussion we asked one of the clerical delegates from Great Britain, What is the position of the British churches in relation to baptism by Roman Catholic priests? His response was, and he is a man considerably advanced in years, "I never heard the question mooted in an Assembly before. We never re-baptise." A distinguished European divine makes use of the following language on this subject: "It seems to be generally agreed not to scrutinize this matter too minutely, and to admit baptism administered by any person who holds the office of the ministry in the church to which he belongs, and who observes the form prescribed by our Saviour, although it may be encumbered with superstitious rites."

Protestant divines hold almost universally, that the "man of sin" spoken of in the second letter of Paul to the Church at Thessalonica, is Anti-Christ, or the Church of Rome. It is not our province to pronounce an opinion on the correctness of this interpretation, but granting that it is correct, does it not argue against the position taken by some of the learned divines last week? For it is said that the "man of sin" "as God sitteth in the temple of God," that is, he is in the Christian church, although his teachings, forms, and ceremonies may not accord with those of Protestant divines.

We are strongly of the opinion, that after a year's deliberation by the presbyteries, the Assembly will be prepared to decree the validity of Papal baptism.

HOME FOR THE FRIENDLESS.

EDITORS GAZETTE:—It has seldom been my good fortune to witness a more lovely spectacle than that presented in the Union Baptist Church on Grant street, last Thursday evening, on the occasion of the ninth anniversary of the "Home of the Friendless." On the platform, which was covered with white linen and handsomely decorated with baskets and bouquets of rare and choice flowers, wreaths and garlands of evergreens, sat eighty-four little girls and boys, (many of them the orphans of our dead soldiers,) beautifully attired, the girls in white, the boys in tasteful uniform. Rev. Wm. M. Young, D.D., presided. Rev. E. K Squire made the opening prayer. Rev. M. Newel read the annual reports and Rev. Mr. Moore addressed the children, interspersing his address with questions to them, which were answered with a promptness which evinced long and careful training in knowledge of the Scriptures. Mrs. Levi Wade and Mrs. J. C. Lippincott, who had supervision of the anniversary, presided at the organ. The very successful manner in which the children performed their parts in the merry songs, speeches and dialogues, showed that these ladies must have spent much time and labor in preparing the children for the occasion. They sang three songs of motion in a highly creditable manner, in return for which the audience literally showered bouquets of beautiful flowers upon them; indeed every little performer received more or less, until the platform looked like a flower garden, filled with fairies. The annual report shows the Institution to be much in want of a larger building, and while their treasury has something in it toward erecting one, it is not enough to warrant them in commencing unless kind friends will aid them in the work. We do not hesitate to say that all who listened to the delightful exercises at the anniversary on last Thursday night will feel a new interest in the Institution, and when the kind ladies having it in charge appeal to them for aid, will respond most cheerfully.

A. SPECTATOR.

THE Ohio State Journal says: Laura Keene will please accept the homage of the subscriber. For several years we labored to break up the vulgar, insolent, barbarous practice of Columbus audiences in the matter of mutilating the last scene in a play by incontinently rushing from the house in the midst of it, as if their eternal salvation depended upon not hearing the play to the end. The cheap boarding house people made a rush, as usual, Saturday night, when Laura Keene stepped to the front and said in a commanding tone—"Sit down a moment!"—and they sat. For a moment the house looked astonished, then a roar of applause shook the building. Turning to the company on the stage, the lady with a graceful wave of the hand said—"Lord Dundreary! our departing friends have concluded to wait for your last words. Proceed!" Good for L. K.

The Crawford County System.

MESSRS. EDITORS GAZETTE: You speak as a party organ of "The Crawford County Plan" of nominations as one especially lauded by politicians of "the peculiar kidney of a certain George K. Anderson, of Crawford county," who is a candidate there, and does not seem to be acceptable to you. You characterize its advocates here as "a handful of disinterested patriots who have sometimes attempted to wheedle our friends in Allegheny into its adoption" by the assurance that it would be "always efficacious in promoting the choice of unexceptionable men." You assert further that it is "the chosen means by which pinchers, roosters, bribers—and all sorts of political and personal scallawags without either principle, or the shadow of repute for it, ever find their ambition most thoroughly subserved," and that the counties of Erie and Crawford in their past and present political history "annually present more or less ample certificates of the utter worthlessness of the system, for anything more than a device to cheat and disappoint the honest rank and file of the party."

This is a hard saying in view of the fact that the system so decried is the "chosen means" of so many of the best Republican counties of this State. But is it true?

The writer of this note, who has no ambition to gratify, and no interest to subserve, but the welfare of the party in the selection of proper representatives upon a principle of Republican equality, is one of those who think that the plan thus reprobated is the only one that can accomplish these objects, and that the one which you prefer is, in all its features—its individual management, and its results—so precisely obnoxious to all the injurious epithets which you have bestowed upon the other, that you could not have described it better than by so applying them.

What then is this monstrum horrendum—this dreaded Crawford county system you so much deprecate and abuse? Why nothing but the reference to the people themselves, of the selection of all the candidates by a direct vote, wherein every man shall express his individual preference for every office, and a majority of the voters shall decide? Surely no honest Republican can object to this.

But what, on the other hand, is the system upon which we now act? Why, that every Election District shall elect the same number of delegates, whether its Republican vote be twenty or a thousand, so that, in point of fact, a certain number of Districts, containing less than one-fourth of the Republican voters of the county, may, through delegates whom it is impossible to instruct as to all the offices, and voting, of course, as they please, dictate to the other three-fourths a ticket for the support of the whole!

Is this Republican? Look at the multiplication of trifling election Districts, and inform your readers, if you please, wherein it differs from the "Rotten Borough" system in England, where new writs were so often issued in high prerogative times by the Crown, to villages with two or three tenements, in order to bring in members to strengthen its vote in the House of Commons? Is it reasonable that the thousand Republican voters in the Second ward of Allegheny, shall be neutralized by the fifteen of the township of Crescent, or that the former shall acquiesce in the results of a proceeding wherein twenty townships, having no greater aggregate of votes than themselves, are allowed forty voices to their two? If you would preserve such a system at all, a just and equal apportionment is an absolute necessity.

It cannot, however, be amended. In no shape whatever can the delegation of such a trust, in the selection of perhaps twenty candidates, where it is impossible to instruct the delegate, even if he would obey, be admissable or defensible in a case where it is possible—as it is incontrovertibly here—for the people to pass directly upon the candidates themselves. Their delegates may be open—as the people at large assuredly are not—either to corruption or management, even if they are competent to decide intelligently, as it must be confessed, from their selections that they very seldom do. But if the people themselves are unfit to pass upon the candidates directly, they must be equally so to choose the proper agents to do it for them. That argument, however, would be fatal not only to the delegate system, but to the principle of popular election itself.

Nor will it do say that the Crawford county system is open to fraud. So are all popular elections. But surely you will not affirm that it would be as easy to corrupt the people themselves as their two delegates; and as to the mode of election, if they cannot vote freely and fairly, then what is to be said of the primary meetings, where they are all supposed to vote, and in which they elect the delegates themselves?

Allow me to add that "the handful of disinterested patriots" who advocate this system, are not the politicians, or the party managers, or "the pinchers, or roosters, or bribers, or scallawags without principle or repute, who find their interest in its adoption." No man of this sort will ever want it, and no man, whether honest or dishonest, can ever make it serve him, but by convincing the people at large of his superior worthiness. If he expects to succeed by intrigue or bribery, no public body will answer his purpose so well as a convention constituted under the present system, under the direction of a few managers; and that, I think, is very well understood by those who hold the strings, and think it so horrid that a majority of the voters should be allowed to select their own candidates.

It is not asserted by the friends of this system that it will always result in the choice of unexceptionable men. All that is claimed for it is, that while insuring the selection of men of good repute at least, it will greatly multiply the chances in that direction by driving from the field altogether all who are of bad repute, and many of those who are selected under the present system, so much to the admitted scandal of the district, and the discredit of the Republican party.

But then you say that the counties of Crawford and Erie in their past and present political history annually present more or less ample certificates of the utter worthlessness of the system.

I do not know that the representatives of those counties have been at any time obnoxious to any disadvantageous comparison with those of other counties which adhere to the old system, even without the startling inequalities and abuses which have crept in here especially and perhaps exclusively in its administration, or that any of them were parties to the concerted robbery of the Sinking Fund for the benefit of the Pennsylvania Central, either by their direct and open votes, or in precipitating the iniquity by the more indirect and less manly process of suspending the rules, as was the case with some of ours, I understand, in both Houses. That the old system has worked well generally, and in its results proved satisfactory to the people—as the doings of our Conventions seldom have—is proved, I think, by the many counties of this State that have adopted and adhered to it. But if it had even failed in some instances, what is to be said of the counties of Philadelphia and Allegheny, as examples of the success of the other sytem which you defend? Is it not notorious that the most inferior representatives of the State have come almost invariably from those districts, which have the material unquestionably of superior quality, and have no apology but a vicious system of nomination for not furnishing it? If the Crawford county plan will not answer, it is clear that human ingenuity can devise no other that will, and equally clear that the whole system of popular election is but a delusion and a humbug.

I do not know, therefore, why you should denounce it, and I have this to add, if you will allow me the expression of an an opinion, that, in my humble judgment, unless there is a reform in this particular, it is not unlikely to lead to the disruption, and perhaps the eventual overthrow of the party in this county. The men who think as I do, though not noisy politicians, are by no means the despicable handful that you suppose, only perhaps because they are quiet and undemonstrative. The time was—and that but lately—when the condition of the country made it a necessity that every loyal man should vote the ticket, whether he liked it or not. That time is now past, as the results of the last election would seem to testify. A decline in one year to little more than half the majority of the previous one, and the loss of a regularly nominated County Commissioner, are hints which no prudent or sagacious politician can afford to despise.

FAIR PLAY.

OTIS CLAPP, who recently died in Charleston, Mass., left a legacy of $500 to be held in trust by ten Charleston men, the interest to be used in defraying the expenses attending the opposition of annexation of Charleston to Boston, and in case the annexation shall be accomplished before twenty-five years, then the whole amount is to go to a fund now existing for the delivery of "Liberal Lectures" and distributing "Liberal Tracts."

A Passion for Parasols---A Remarkable Instance of Kleptomania.

There is in New York a rich lady, who, if the New York correspondent of the Philadelphia Public Record may be believed, has a mania for stealing parasols. This remarkable lady, it appears, has been married for some four or five years, but her husband till the present time has never had the least suspicion of her singular failing. Smith—to call her for convenience sake, by a wholly impersonal name—had in her large and elegant house a little boudoir which she always kept closely locked. It was one of those apartments which in New York houses are always called "hall bed-rooms." When examined the other day by some detectives the walls of the apartment were found decorated with nearly two hundred parasols of all sizes and varieties, from the cheapest to the most expensive. There were several richly decorated with lace, valued at fifty dollars apiece. The kleptomaniac has been several years forming this unique collection; and on one or two occasions when detected in the act by storekeepers, manages to hush up the matter by restitution or purchase of the stolen property. She had an odd habit of giving names to her favorite parasols, selecting them from poems, novels and plays. The latest addition to the stock—an elegant white parasol with heavy fringe—was called "Frou Frou," others bore labels with such as "Pickwick," "Little Dorrit," "Lady of the Lake," "Elaine," "Clara Vere de Vere," Evangeline," "Ophelia," "Roselind" and the like; and one large specimen, bordering on the umberella species, bore the gloomy name "Lady Macbeth." The husband of the lady in question is undecided as to what course to pursue in the curious emergency. As to the fair kleptomaniac herself, she professes to be overwhelmed with contrition and remorse. The family will certainly remunerate the spoliated parasol dealers for their losses, and the matter will probably be hushed up.

A Female Speculator out of Wall Street.

The Milwaukee Wisconsin of the 1st says: "Some days ago, an apparently intelligent German woman came to the city, and stopped in the Ninth Ward. Studying carefully the ground, and selecting houses where it was known that some money had been saved, the woman would go to the house in the absence of the husband, and make the acquaintance of the wife. She would work into her confidence, and then tell her that she, the confidence woman, was in communication with spirits, and that they had divulged the fact to her that sums all the way from one million to ten million dollars were buried on the lot. In each case she agreed to aid the parties in securing this money, and the same programme was necessary—to bury from $50 to $100 on the lot, that the larger quantity might be found. Confidence felt so certain of the result that she would furnish one-half the money. It seems singular that such a story should be believed, even by the most ignorant; but it was, and, in a number of instances, the women went to the hiding place of the family money, and, taking out the amount required, gave it to the stranger, who, with an equal amount of her own, buried it. It was, in every case, a part of the compact that the matter must be kept a secret, and not even the husband or any person could be told of it. In one case, where $200 was paid over, the charm did not work, and $200 more were added, taking the hard earned savings of the family for years. It is now known that over $2,000 was raised by this woman, all from poor families. When the bubble burst, and the frightened and sold parties went to look for their money, it was gone of course—was dug up at night and carried away by the woman, who has left the city."

A Man Who Almost Was a Gentleman.

Tuesday morning as a crowded Claiborne street car was proceeding along Common street, a very elegantly dressed female came in, deeply veiled. Several gentlemen immediately arose and offered her their seats, one of which she accepted with all the graceful abandon and assumed indifference of a recognized belle. Taking from her portmonnaie a small piece of change, she gave it to a gentleman to pay her fare. The nickel was deposited, and the person in retiring to his seat picked up the lady's handkerchief that had been accidentally dropped. In so doing he caught a glimpse of a sunburned countenance decidedly cafe au lait in appearance. "What," exclaimed the gentleman, suddenly straightening up. "Why, confound it, it is a nigger." "Sar," responded the female, "I'se a lady. My husband belongs to the Legislatur." The surprise of this declaration caused the gentleman to relax his hold upon the car straps, and the vehicle just at this moment reaching a curve, gave a sudden lurch, and losing his balance the man was deposited full tilt in the African's lap. A succession of loud screams, in which the words "white trash" mingled with a volume of indignant abuse as the female left the car to proceed to have her assailant arrested on the charge of assault and battery. Appearing before the Recorder the matter was explained and the case dismissed, much to the dissatisfaction of the lady, who plainly intimated that the matter was not done with yet, and the gentleman might anticipate an invitation to the Oaks as soon as the legislator was informed of the occurrence.—N. O. Picayune.

A Good Samaritan's Reward.

A Spanish Jew passed, some two months ago, the quarter "Stambul" in the city of Constantinople. It had rained for several days, so that the mud of the streets was very deep. A Turkish boy, who had to cross a street, was unable to undertake it by the deep mud and by a canal that was just opened. The Jew, noticing the embarrassment of the boy, took him on his arm to carry him across. Some Greeks and Armenians witnessing this, cried out, "See, the Jew takes the boy, to use his blood." In vain did the Jew protest his innocence, in vain were all assurances of the mother of the child, that it was by her request that the Jew took hold of the boy: the fanatic crowd, which had soon gathered together, were mercilessly beating the Jew, and it was only through the interference of the police that his life was saved. The next day the mob pursued some Jewish ragpickers, forcing them to empty their bags, to find out if there were no Christian children secreted there, and, after they found nothing, the Jews were beaten for the disappointment. The report of these outrages reached the Sultan, who mercifully published an order for the prevention of such deeds in future, and the severest punishment of all instigators of similar persecutions.

The Savage Hidalgos.

The last Spanish barbarity reaches us through the medium of a private letter from Remedios, written by a trustworthy person. Early in the month of May, forty-two inhabitants of that city were dragged from their houses late at night, under the pretence that they were in some manner identified with the insurgent cause. The poor wretches were dragged from their families, safely bound, and taken to the vicinity of the cemetery, and were there clubbed to death with the butt end of muskets. No charge, no trial, and, shackled as they were, no possible defence—knocked on the head like oxen in the shambles. Among them was more than one old man over seventy years of age. Two only managed to escape this horrible massacre. This deed was committed by the volunteers in revenge for the many defeats they had lately suffered. Portillo, the military commander of the district, who had previously earned a reputation in Villa Clara for his cruelties to old men, defenceless women and children, was aware of the outrages that were being committed, but by his inaction passively endorsed the fearful butchery.

The Oneida Disaster--British Opinion of Eyre.

The London Times of May 18th says: "The correspondence relative to the collision between the Oneida and the Bombay, and the official notes and evidence in the inquiry held at Yokohama, have just been printed by order of the House of Commons, and every one has the opportunity of learning the facts and judging the case for himself. The general opinion, we are sorry to say, must be that the most unfavorable view taken of Mr. Eyre's conduct in this country is the most consistent with truth. We have waited with an earnest hope that something would appear to extenuate his culpability and to remove the stigma which through him had been fixed on the humanity of British seamen. But, though the distorted versions of the story current in the United States may be set aside, enough remains to show that beyond a doubt the death of one hundred and twelve persons who were lost with the Oneida is to be ascribed to the negligence of the Captain of the Bombay..

MR. S. B. DENNETT, who left the Nation to fill the chair of English literature in Harvard, thinks of returning to editorial life.

THE Philadelphia Bulletin publishes a call signed by a long list of prominent citizens, requesting Mr. Wm. Rotch Wister to permit his name to be used as Republican candidate for Congress in the Fifth District. Mr. Wister permits.

THE LIFE SUSTAINING ORGAN.

The two organs which minister most directly to the support of the body are the stomach and liver. In the former the first process of digestion takes place, under the action of that powerful solvent, the gastric juice. Thence the food, controverted into a pulp, passes into the duodenum, where it is subjected to the action of the bile or gall, flowing from the liver, and of the fluid generated from the pancreas, or sweetbread of the system. These secretions separate the nutritious portions from the rest, and it is then taken up by the absorbent vessels and conveyed into the channels of circulation in the form of venous blood, while the waste matter is discharged through the bowels. Unless all these processes are duly performed, disease of some sort is inevitable, and the best of all medicinal agents for preserving or restoring the tone and regulating the action of the three organs—(the stomach, liver and intestines)—by which the threefold work is carried on, is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Indigestion is generally accompanied by constipation, and the gentle cathartic operation of the Bitters is no less important in cases of this kind, than its tonic effect upon the stomach and the biliary gland. Beauty of person as well as health, depends in no small degree upon the regularity of the excretive functions. A sallow complexion, a thick opaque coarse skin, a tainted breath, rush of blood to the head, loss of memory, headache, and extreme mental depression, are the usual accompaniments of costiveness. A course of the Bitters will infallibly relieve, and finally banish these obnoxious symptoms while invigorating the stomach and promoting healthy action in the liver. This genial vegetable stomachic and alterative, strikes at disease in its primary sources, the assimilating, secretive and expulsive organs, and the cures it effects are consequently thorough and complete.

LOAN
Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Co.

The Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad

Is completed and running from RICHMOND, VA., to the celebrated WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, in West Virginia, 227 miles. It is being rapidly extended to the Ohio river, 200 miles further making in all 427 miles.
In its progress Westward, it penetrates and opens up to market the WONDERFUL COAL DEPOSITS OF THE KANAWHA REGION IN WEST VIRGINIA. And thus brings the superior and abundant Coals of that section into communication with the IRON ORES OF VIRGINIA AND OHIO, and the WESTERN, SOUTH WESTERN AND EASTERN MARKETS.
When completed it will connect the SUPERIOR HARBOR FACILITIES OF THE CHESAPEAKE BAY with reliable navigation on the Ohio river, and thus with the ENTIRE SYSTEM OF RAILROAD AND WATER TRANSPORTATION OF THE GREAT WEST AND SOUTHWEST.
It will make a SHORT, EASY, CHEAP and FAVORABLE ROUTE from the WEST to the SEA and will command a LARGE SHARE OF THE ENORMOUS FREIGHTS seeking transportation to the coast.
It will thus become one of the most IMPORTANT AND PROFITABLE EAST AND WEST TRUNK LINES OF RAILROAD in the country, and command a trade of immense value.
The completed portion of the Road is doing a PROFITABLE AND INCREASING BUSINESS, and is fully equal in value to the whole amount of the mortgage upon the entire Line—($15,000,000.)
The loan of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company, being a FIRST MORTGAGE UPON THE ENTIRE LINE, PROPERTY AND EQUIPMENTS, WORTH WHEN COMPLETED AT LEAST $30,000,000, is therefore one of the most substantial, conservative and reliable Railroad Loans ever offered in the market, and is peculiarly adapted to the wants of Investors and Capitalists.

DR. WHITTIER
CONTINUES TO TREAT ALL PRIVATE DISEASES, Syphilis in all its forms, all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness and Impotency, resulting from self-abuse or other causes, and which produce some of the following effects as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally so prostrating the sexual system as to render marriage unsatisfactory, and therefore imprudent, are permanently cured. Persons afflicted with these or any other delicate, intricate or long standing constitutional complaint should give the Doctor a trial; he never fails.
A particular attention given to all Female complaints, Leucorrhea or Whites, Falling, Inflammation or Ulceration of the Womb, Ovaritis, Pruritis, Amenorrhoea, Menorrhagia, Dysmenorrhoea, and Sterility or Barrenness, are treated with the greatest success.
It is self-evident that a physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire greater skill in that specialty than one in general practice.
The Doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases that can be had free at office or by mail for two stamps, in sealed envelopes. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.
The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instances, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is calculated to promote recovery, including medicated vapor baths. All prescriptions are prepared in the Doctor's own laboratory, under his personal supervision. Medical pamphlets at office free, or by mail for two stamps. No matter who have failed, read what he says. Hours 9 A. M. to 8 P. M. Sundays 12 M. to 2 P. M. Office, No. 9 WYLIE ST, (near Court House) Pittsburgh.

MONEY AND COMMERCE.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
SATURDAY, June 4, 1870.

Next Tuesday being set in Congress as the day when the so-called currency bill is to be considered, the entire markets reflect the importance the passage or rejection of the bill would have on the future money market. While those who favor its passage predict a general decline of the stock and gold market, a rise is expected in all Government securities. Those predicting its rejection are hopeful of a further general rise in stocks, and likely in gold, from the fact that larger amounts of specie would be shipped to Europe, which have only been delayed in the hope of securing it at a lower rate. The payment of about thirty-five millions of gold for interest on July first is also an argument used in favor of lower gold and higher prices for bonds and stocks. The temporizing in Congress with all financial measures has kept the mercantile community, as well as capitalists, in a state of uncertainty, and instead of doing a very large and paying spring business, as could reasonably be expected from the general good crops in every section of the country, trade is lingering, and should no judicious financial measures be adopted by Congress very early, the fall business will give no more satisfaction.

The feature of the past week was the decline in the gold premium, despite the large amounts exported and the rise in government bonds, contrary to the general rule.

Stocks are excited and higher under the manipulations of the cliques. Pacific Mail, an almost worthless stock, was manipulated from 35¾ to 44½, and closed at 41¼. The rest of the market is strong and shows all the symptoms of a further general rise.

In our local securities there is a steady improvement and a general appreciation of all kinds of stock from the large amount of capital seeking profitable investment. It is only surprising that mortgages still sell at from 10 to 11 per cent, the excess of legal interest deducted by advancing the money. It is high time that usury laws should be abolished in this state. It would, especially for the coming decision, be a great benefit to the middle and poorer class who have bought property and wish to improve it, but are prevented by the extortions of a greedy class of monied men.

REVIEW FOR THE WEEK.

Compared with last week, the oil business presents but little that is new or important. The market has been exceedingly dull, the sales being very light, and while the general feeling is one of weakness and the tendency downward, there has been but little change in prices. It is said that several "lines" were taken by speculators during the week, but for some reason or other it was kept very quiet, and the particulars have not as yet transpired. We are inclined to the belief, however, that these "lines" were not very large and that there were not very many of them. At no time for several years, perhaps, in the history of the trade, has this market been clearer of speculation than for the past five months, and a slight "breeze," such as was of very frequent occurrence last year, would liven trade somewhat, though after all it is probable that the trade is just as well without anything of this kind.

There are various causes assigned for the weakness above referred to, but the principal one is the steady increase in the production. New strikes are almost daily occurrences—three good wells reported within the past few days, which, if reports are true, have added fully three hundred barrels per day to the production. But as we noted the other day, it is remarkable how prices are sustained, and still more remarkable that crude is stronger and relatively higher, in this market at least, than refined. It is this that is clogging business here; generally speaking, it makes but little difference to the manufacturer whether crude is 10 or 20 cts., provided he has a margin.

Receipts Crude this week, 27,985 bbls; last week, 7,901; January 1st to date, 397,128; same time last year 277,750. Exports of refined this week, 17,568; last week, 25,441; from January 1st to date, 241,552; same time last year, 163,958. Sales this week, 24,750 bbls crude; 3,000 bbls refined; last week, 13,000 bbls crude; 5,000 refined.

CRUDE.

The market is dull and unchanged. Spot or seller June or July, 12@12⅜ bid, 12⅛ asked; seller August 12⅜; August to December, 12⅝@12¾; seller all year, 11⅞@12; buyer all year, 13⅛.

PITTSBURGH MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
SATURDAY, June 4, 1870.

The grain markets continue to attract considerable attention, all over the country, and as might be expected, a lively interest is taken in regard to the coming crops. We notice that Chicago speculators, particularly those who are long on wheat, are again very apprehensive that the yield will be below an average, in consequence of a reported drouth in the northwest, and they have been "bulling" that market for some time past with considerable success. Another theory advanced is that there is a smaller area of wheat sown than in former years; also, that England must yet import 28 million bushels to supply her deficiency to the time of the harvest. A western exchange says that wheat does not pay the farmer at anything under one dollar per bushel, whereas many of them have been obliged to sell at but little over 50 cts. The same paper says "that it pays better to raise corn and oats, and with propitious weather, Illinois will have a large yield of the two latter, more being planted than last year, and the prospects at present are very good." The Chicago Tribune in commenting on the wheat market remarks:

"Of course these croakings about short crops are always heard at this time of the year, but they have now gained greater credence than usual, owing to the recollection that this is a cycle year, 1854, 1838, 1822, and 1806, are all credited in history as being years of failure; they are divided by intervals of sixteen years, and that interval claims 1870 as the next knot in the cord. A great many people in the country pay attention to such things, where city people think them beneath notice, except as mere coincidences. But the country orders often control the market, the great mass of operators on the floor being really little more than the representatives of country speculators."

APPLES—Season is over and we omit quotations.

BUTTER—The demand for commission butter is exceedingly light, and it is dull and hard to sell. One house reports having sold 30 pkgs of prime at 16—quotations may be fairly given at 15@18 for good to choice.

BROOM CORN—Demand very slow; prices nominally unchanged, 12 to 16c.

BROOMS—Store prices; Fancy, $5,50; No. 1, $4,50; No. 2, $4; No. 3, $3,50; Common, $2,50@3.

BEANS—Dull but nominally unchanged, $1,50@1,75 per bushel.

CHEESE—Is rather dull but unchanged. Ohio Goshen quoted at 15@15½, and Ohio Factory at 14@15.

CARBON OIL—Is dull but firm, and cannot fairly be quoted below 24, in a jobbing way.

CORNMEAL—Demand light and prices unchanged, 95@$1 per bushel.

CEMENT—Sales of Louisville Hydraulic at $2@2¼ per bbl.

DRIED FRUIT—The stock of the better grades is pretty well reduced and there is little or no inquiry for any other kind. We continue to quote Apples at 5 to 6½ cents; Peaches, 6@7 for quarters, and 8@9 for halves.

EGGS—The arrivals continue liberal, and the market is quiet and unchanged. Some dealers report having sold at 20, but 19 may be regarded as the ruling quotation.

FLOUR—The market if anything is firmer, but there is no improvement in the demand, the great proportion of the sales being in small lots, while prices are unchanged. We continue to quote western flours, in store, at $5.25@5.75 for spring wheat $5,50@6 for winter wheat and $7@7.50 for fancy brands. Rye flour, $5.

GROCERIES—Sugars firm with a steady city and country demand, while Coffees, Syrups &c., &c., are quiet and unchanged. Following are the quotations: Sugars—Porto Rico, 10 for fair; 10⅜ for good and 11¼@11¾ for prime to choice. Crushed, 14⅜; A. Coffee, 13⅜; B., 13; Extra C. 12¾; C. 12½; C. Yellow, 11. Coffee, 18½ for fair Rio; 20 for good, 21 for prime, and 22 for choice. Rice—Rangoon, 8⅜; Carolina, 9. New Orleans Molasses, 80@85.

GRAIN—Wheat is dull and in good supply and the millers, as might be expected, continues very bearish, and appear very indifferent about buying, as they are all full and have no place to put more. Prime to choice red is still quoted at $1,15@1.18. There is rather more inquiry for oats and the market is rather firmer; quite a number of car loads have been sold within the past day or two at 50@51, to go to Philadelphia, and this, of course, has materially reduced the stock here. Corn continues very dull, and as there is no margin in shipping east and little or no demand for it here, holders are obliged to store it; we quote in the absence of sales at 80 to 82 for ear and 86@88 for shelled. Rye is unsettled and hard to quote correctly; some dealers are offering 85, but we hear of sales at 90@92 and even 95. Nothing doing in Barley.

HAY—Continues exceedingly dull and prices are lower; wagon hay may be quoted at $10@16; and baled, on wharf, at $10@14.

HEMP—Sales of undressed Kentucky Hemp at $167.

HUSKS—Corn husks, 3@3½ cts.

LARD OIL—No. 1 extra is quoted at $1.25@1.28, and No. 2 at 80@85.

LIME—Sales of Cleveland at $2.25 per bbl, and eastern at $1.75.

PROVISIONS—Market steady but with the exception of lard, which is a shade lower, there is no change in prices. Shoulders, 13¾ for plain; 15⅜ for sugar canvassed; Ribbed sides, 17; Clear sides, 18@18¼. Breakfast Bacon, 18½. Dried Beef higher, 22@22½. Lard, 16⅜ in tierces and 17⅜@17¾ in kegs and buckets.

POTATOES—Prime Peach Blows are scarce and in demand with small sales, at 45@50, but common and inferior are not wanted at any price.

SEEDS—Flaxseed is in steady demand, at $2.20. No demand for Clover or Timothy Seeds.

RIVER NEWS.

The river has undergone little or no change for several days, the Monongahela marks still indicating 3 feet 6 inches in the channel.

The Petrolia, from Wheeling, arrived, and the Kate Putnam, from Nashville, and the Julia from Zanesville, are due this morning.

The Cumberland river was rising on Friday with nine feet on Harpeth Shoals.

The St. Charles took a picnic party out from Cincinnati on Saturday. The Arlington had not arrived up until Friday night.

The Glendale, from St. Louis, was expected to arrive at Cincinnati on Saturday.

The Wild Duck left St. Louis for Pittsburgh on Thursday.

The Bellevernon was to have taken a picnic party out from Cincinnati on Saturday.

The Glasgow was at Evansville on Saturday, and the Camelia was at Cairo.

The Memphis Avalanche of Wednesday says: The Arkansas, from St. Louis, for Arkansas river, discharged 200 tons of freight here. Her captain was undecided last night as regards ascending the Arkansas river, owing to the low stage of water. The Mollie McPike, for Arkansas river, was loaded too deep to get up that stream above the cut-off at the present low stage of water.

—The Memphis Appeal says: The steamer Legal Tender has captured and carried away United States Marshal H. P. Reid and his posse. They went aboard as directed by a process of the Federal Court, caught the pilot, and tied the boat to a log projecting from the bank at Friar's Point. The Captain above, seeing what was going on, ordered the engineers to back out into the river. The log was dragged after the boat, which went away to its destination with the United States officers on board. Their writs had no validity beyond the middle of the river, and the captain having made them confess they were "dead beats," dead headed them on the round trip. A "Legal Tender" pays debts very couriously, if one may "read" conclusions from facts here recited. In reference to the above we have a note from Judge Reid who says he was carried about five miles down the river and was put ashore in Arkansas.

—The river has reached a stage now that boats which are too long for the canal could ascends the falls if it were not for the cribs and obstructions left in the channel of the river by the bridge company. It is an outrage that boats belonging above here and needed there, should be detained here on this account. When the river was down a few days ago, they could have been removed easily. Now, the Ajax, Boaz, Mollie Ebert and several other boats are lying at Portland for this reason.—Louisville Commercial.

—A very exciting race occurred between the steamers Andy Johnson, of the Keokuk Packet Company, and the Red Wing, of the Northern Line, between St. Louis and Keokuk, on their last trip. The Johnson has been considered the fastest boat on the Upper Mississippi, and carried off the honors, but the Red Wing, although new and towing a barge, beat her an hour to Quincy. It is said the Red Wing ran from Hannibal to Quincy, 25 miles, in 55 minutes.

—A private letter from Marietta, Ohio, states that Captain H. J. Brinker's new boat, building at that place for the Red River trade, is progressing finely. The following are her dimensions: Length, 165 feet, beam, 38 feet, depth of hold, 5½ feet, 18 inches cylinders, 6 feet stroke, with cabin full length, and as fine as they make them for the Red River trade. Her name has not yet been decided upon.

—The St. Louis Democrat, of Wednesday, says: The Collier left for Carondelet, from which she will depart to-morrow or Friday, with 500 tuns ore for Pittsburgh, 400 tuns for Ironton, and 400 tuns for Martinsville, besides 150 tuns iron she took from our levee. The Tom Rees barges are loading at Carondelet with iron ore for the Ohio, and will get away, probably, to day.

—A late Memphis dispatch says: Nearly an acre of valuable land at the foot of Poplar street, in front of the city, fell into the river last night, swamping and sinking six barges of coal owned by Brown and Jones, entailing a loss of fifteen thousand dollars. In the morning a large portion of the bluff just below the city tumbled into the river.

—It is said that the owners of the steamer Dexter contemplate making some extensive alterations on her; that she will be widened 12 feet and lengthened 45, which will make her the same length as the steamer Richmond—345 feet long.

—Standish Peppard, clerk, and the crew of the Mollie Ebert passed through Cincinnati on Thursday for Pittsburgh, the Ebert having been laid up at Portland, there not being water enough to enable her to ascend the falls.

—The Nile left Little Rock, May 25. Nightingale lying there waiting for a rise to go up. Clarkville at Swan Lake double-tripping; R. C. Gray laid up at South Bend; America laid up at Arkansas Port.

—A passenger on the steamer Robert Burns lost seventeen hundred dollars by a confidence game, just before the departure of that boat from Memphis on Tuesday night.

—The barge Louisa, sunk some time ago and supposed to have been lost, is lying on the bank at the mouth of Saline River, and will be launched soon.

—The warehouses at Little Rock are full of Fort Smith freight, left there by transient boats.

THE DAILY GAZETTE.

HOME NEWS.

City Councils meet this afternoon at two o'clock.

Lost Locket.—A small locket, with gray agate sides. See advertisement in another column.

A Stated Meeting of the Board of Controllers will be held at City Hall, on Tuesday evening, June 7, at 7½ o'clock.

Mr. Joseph Gray, the accommodating and worthy Register, will present his account as register for confirmation to-day.

Carpenters, Builders and Contractors will find an advertisement of Dry Yellow Pine and Oak Lumber for sale on our first page.

Sheriff Fleming will offer some valuable real estate for sale to-day, commencing at 10 A. M. W. J. Delhi, his chief clerk, will do the talking and working.

Ten Cases.—Mayor Callow had ten common cases before him yesterday morning. Among the number was Joseph Burke, who was sent to the workhouse for ninety days for disorderly conduct.

Postponed.—The Concert announced to take place this evening at Liberty Hall, has been unavoidably postponed. It will be given, however, at an early day, due notice of which will appear in this paper.

Slight Fire.—About eight o'clock Saturday evening a slight fire occurred in Ehler's saloon, Allegheny. It originated in a wardrobe on the second floor. It was extinguished before any serious damage was done.

Progressing.—The work on the Meadow street sewer, East Birmingham, the contract for which was awarded to Messrs. Hastings & O'Neill has been commenced and is progressing favorably. The sewer is nineteen hundred feet in length.

Attention, Douglass Zouaves.—A meeting will be held at the Miller street school house this (Monday) evening, June 6th, at 7½ o'clock. Business of importance to be transacted.

By order of
G. S. MASSEY, Capt.

Duprez & Benedict.—Our city, we discover, is to be favored with a visit by Duprez & Benedict's excellent Minstrel Troupe in a few days. If the troupe is as good as it was when we were last favored with their presence here, and it doubtless is, they will do a good business.

Man Drowned.—Mr. George Friedley, aged about nineteen years, employed as clerk by Messrs. McIntire & Brown, grocerymen at Beck's Run, was drowned in the Monongahela river at that place about six o'clock last evening while bathing. His parents reside in Harding county, Ohio.

Daring Robbery.—About half past ten o'clock Friday evening two men went into Sarber and Brown's jewelry store on Federal street and stole a gold watch from the show case which was worth $80. The watch was not missed for some minutes after they had taken their departure.

Minstrels.—Lovers of amusement, and who are not, should remember that Carncross and Dixie's minstrels commence a brief engagement at the Academy of Music this evening. The troupe is one of the best in existence, and comprises some of the leading talent in the profession. Go and see them.

Legs Broken.—An accident occurred in Ormsby, Saturday afternoon, by which three men each had a leg broken. Mr. Henry C. Nullmeyer, a boss carpenter, and two journeymen were working on a scaffold at a new building in Ormsby borough, when the scaffolding fell and precipitated them to the ground, breaking a leg for each of them.

Moving.—William Hughes formerly occupied a house owned by Mrs. Mary Kelley, and a few days since William moved. He was not satisfied with moving his personal goods but attempted to take with him a part of the realty. He tore up the floor and carried away the boards. Mary made information before Alderman O'Donnell charging William with malicious mischief, and a warrant issued for his arrest.

German in the Schools.—The committee appointed at a meeting of German citizens relative to the introduction of the German language in the public schools, met in Turner Hall, Saturday evening, when it was resolved that the petitions asking that the German language be taught in the several schools be presented to the several local Boards, with the request that said Boards lay them before the Central Board of Education, and the question be agitated throughout the city.

Dangerous Plaything.—Loaded pistols are dangerous playthings for children, as was proven by an accident which occurred in Uniontown, Fayette county, Saturday morning. Willie McClelland, son of Mrs. McClelland, of the McClelland House, and a little boy from the soldiers orphan's school, at that place, were playing with a loaded pistol when by some accident it was discharged and the ball passed through Willie McClelland's wrist and inflicted a serious wound in the other boys hand.

The Ambrose Murder.—Information was made before Justice Heisel yesterday, by Mrs. Ambrose, widow of the man who was killed in a fight in Bedford Hall, Birmingham, some months since, charging J. Marshall with the murder. Marshall, it will be remembered, was charged with felonious assault and battery on oath of Mr. Fritz, father of Charles Fritz, who was seriously wounded in the same affray in which Ambrose was killed, and he is now under bail to answer that charge. A warrant was issued in the other case.

Union Dale Cemetery—Excitement at the Gate.

We have heard much said of the conduct of the gatekeeper on the occasion of a large funeral procession, many in carriages and many on foot, which reached the gate of the Hilldale side of the cemetery on Sunday, the 22d ultimo, when the person in charge of the gate after the hearse and a few carriages had entered, closed the gate on all others who could not procure a ticket of admission, enforcing the rule very peremptorily to the great grief and indignation of a large number of men and women—many of them lot-owners, and all in orderly procession, desiring to perform the last offices of friendship to a deceased friend.

We felt quite sure that the conduct of the gate keeper was wholly unauthorized, and are confirmed in this opinion by one of the Trustees with whom we conferred on Saturday, who says the Superintendent and entire Board of Trustees condemn the conduct of the gate keeper as emphatically as did the people whom he turned away from the gate, and ascribe his action to a misapprehension of a general order of the Board to exclude Sunday visitors who were not furnished with tickets. This rule was found necessary to restrain the practice of improper persons frequenting the country on Sunday but by no means to preclude those who came with funerals. The mistake is very much regretted by the Directors and Superintendent and is not likely to happen again. The gate keeper himself is ashamed of his blunder and only pleads that he thought he was obeying orders. He will know better in all time to come.

BURIED ALIVE.

Frightful Accident in Allegheny—Two Men Killed and Two Injured—Buried Beneath a Mass of Rock—Coroner's Inquest.

An accident of a shocking character occurred about half-past ten o'clock Saturday morning, in the Seventh ward, Allegheny, resulting in the death of two men and the serious and probable fatal injury of two others. Messrs. Howard & Co. have a contract for grading Vista street, in the Seventh ward, Allegheny, where for some weeks they have had a large force of men at work, the job being a heavy one. The street passes through a hill, necessitating a cut of twenty feet, a great portion of which is solid rock, which had to be blasted. At the time mentioned, four men, James Gallaher, Barney Haney, James Denniston and Michael Moore, were at work undermining a large rock, which, from the force of the powder used in blasting, had probably become detached from the surrounding rocks, and without a moment's warning it came down with a crash, bringing with it several tons of loose dirt and debris, completely covering the four men above mentioned. The other workmen, as soon as it was safe to begin work from the amount of detached pieces of rock that continued to fall for some minutes after the first crash, went to the rescue. Denniston and Moore were first taken out, and although they had sustained serious injuries about the head and body, were still living. Some minutes elapsed before Graham could be extricated from beneath the mass of rock, and when taken out the former was quite dead, and the latter, although living, had received injuries necessarily fatal, and he expired in about twenty minutes afterward.

Surgical attendance was summoned, and the injured men were properly attended to.

The bodies of deceased were removed to their place of residence in the Ninth ward, this city, when Coroner Clawson held an inquest upon them yesterday morning, and the jury returned a verdict of accidental death, in accordance with the above facts.

THE CITY FUNDS.

The City of Pittsburgh vs. The City Treasurer—The Mandamus Case.

The case of the city of Pittsburgh vs. A. J. Cochran, City Treasurer, an application for a writ of Mandamus to compel the City Treasurer to deposit with the several banks designated as city depositories by Councils for the city funds, in compliance with an ordinance passed by Councils known as the "Barton Ordinance" requiring him so to do, was fully and ably argued in the Common Pleas Court on Saturday, before a full Bench.

The argument was opened by Mr. J. F. Slagle, City Solicitor, on behalf of the city, who reviewed the history of the city, and all the acts of Assembly bearing on the case and held that it was clearly the right of Councils to control the finances of the city, as well as all property belonging to the corporation.

George Shiras, Esq., followed in behalf of the Treasurer. He thought the case one of the greatest importance. The act of Assembly which created the Councils also creates the office of City Treasurer and defines the duties of that office clearly. He then cited the act of 1857, which defines the duties of the Treasurer, and held that Councils was an irresponsible body and had no right to interfere with the City Treasurer so long as he complied with the provisions of the act of Assembly defining his duties.

Thos. M. Marshall, Esq., also for the Treasurer, followed in an able argument. He said that originally the power which Councils had assumed was delegated to them and the Treasurer was a mere machine; subsequent acts of Assembly had disrobed them of that power, however, and it was now vested in all the officers of the corporation alike, the duties of each being explicitly defined.

Mr. White closed the argument for the city, confining himself, at the suggestion of Judge Sterrett, to a single point of the repeal of the act of 1857. He held that the act had not been repealed; there was no repealing clause in the act of '67, and all the provisions of the act of '57 remain in full force. The arguments on both sides were able and exhaustive. The Court will probably deliver an opinion to-day.

NEW FIRE DEPARTMENT.

When it Will go into Operation—Rules and Regulations for its Government.

The Fire Commissioners have not as yet assumed entire control of the Fire Department, but are perfecting their arrangements to that end as rapidly as possible. An inventory of the "goods, chattels and effects" of the old department which are to be transferred to the use and benefit of the new is being taken, and it is thought all arrangements will be completed during the present week, when the department will go into service under the following rules and regulations which have been carefully prepared, and are to be promulgated:

RULES AND REGULATIONS.

ARTICLE 1. All companies of the Department shall be furnished with a copy of the Fire Ordinance and Rules and Regulations, which shall be framed and placed in their respective houses. It shall be the duty of officers and members of the Department to conform to all the requisitions, and perform all the duties, herein required.

ART. 2. The Chief Engineer shall have full control at all times of all men, engines, horses, hose, ladders, trucks, engine houses, and all apparatus belonging to the Department not specially enumerated. He shall order all repairs to apparatus, and report the same without delay to the Commissioners, and shall have power to suspend employees of the Department until the Commissioners take action on charges preferred. It shall be his duty once a day to visit the several houses of the Department, and see that the apparatus is in proper condition and the men at their posts. He must also appear upon the fire ground fully equipped.

ART. 3. The Assistant Engineer shall perform all such duties as the Commissioners and Chief Engineer shall require, and in the absence of the Chief Engineer, shall perform all his duties. He must also appear on the fire ground fully equipped.

ART. 4. In the absence of the Chief and Assistant Engineers from a fire, the Foreman of the first company arriving on the ground shall take the command.

ART. 5. It shall be the duty of the foremen to see that the several engines, apparatus and horses committed to their care, and the several buildings in which the same are deposited, and all things in and belonging to the same, are kept neat and clean, and in order for immediate use; It shall also be their duty to preserve order and discipline in their respective companies, especially while going to, in service at, or returning from fires, and require and enforce a strict compliance with the city ordinances and the rules and regulations of the Board of Commissioners. They shall also keep, or cause to be kept, fair and exact rolls, specifying the age, time of admission and discharge of each member, and account of all city property entrusted to the care of the several members, and of all absence or tardiness of the same, in a book provided for that purpose by the city; which roll or record books are always to be subject to the order of the Board. They shall also make to the Chief Engineer and Commissioners true and accurate returns, in writing, of all the members, with their ages, residence and occupation; also monthly (or oftener if necessary) statements of the condition of the apparatus and property of the Department entrusted to their care, with an estimated list of all articles that may be required for the ensuing month.

The Foreman or commanding officer of each Company shall remain with the Company or apparatus of which he has charge, preserve order and direct the operations of the same and all members of the several companies, except when otherwise engaged on special duty, shall remain at or about the apparatus to which they are attached. The Foreman will be held responsible for the conduct of his men while at the Department house or on the fire ground, and will be required to report in writing to the Chief Engineer any dereliction of duty or violation of the rules by the members.

ART. 6. It shall be the duty of the Engineer of each Company to be at all times present at the engine house, except when absent therefrom on duty; he shall give his entire time and attention to his Company, and shall have his engine ready for service at all times. He shall accompany his engine to all fires or alarms, and discharge the duties appertaining to his position, as directed by the Foreman of his Company or his superior officer, and he shall be required to do all the repairing, as prescribed by the rules creating this Department.

ART. 7. The Drivers shall have charge and due care of the horses of their respective companies while at the engine or truck house, going to a fire, while there or returning to the house, and shall have them at all times ready for immediate service. They shall report to and otherwise execute the directions of the foreman, and shall be on duty at the engine or truck house at all times, except during fires; and whilst practising horses, shall not go further from the house than directed by the foreman.

ART. 8. Each Hoseman shall be on duty at his respective engine house at all times except during fires, and shall discharge all the duties appertaining to his position during the time the apparatus is in service. It shall also be his duty to keep his engine house, hose carriage and hose in a proper and cleanly condition, and shall be subject in all things to the direction of the foreman. He shall also drive the hose carriage going to and returning from a fire.

ART. 9. The fireman shall assist the engineer in all his duties, and shall obey all orders of foreman and engineer.

ART. 10. The truckmen, in addition to their duties as firemen of the truck companies, shall have charge of the apparatus and houses of their respective companies.

ART. 11. It shall be the duty of all engineers, horsemen, drivers, truckmen and firemen of each company to remain at their respective engine-houses during the night; and a failure to comply with this requirement will be a good and sufficient cause for their dismissal from service. Provided, however, that one member of each company may have leave of absence one night, each in his turn, as may be arranged by the foreman.

ART. 12. Persons to be eligible to membership in the Department, must be over twenty-one years of age, and resident in the city of Pittsburgh.

ART. 13. No spirituous or malt liquors shall be allowed in any engine or other house belonging to the Department, or at any fire or alarm of fire; and any member seen intoxicated about any engine house or any other house used by the Department, at any fire or alarm of fire, shall be subject to dismissal.

ART. 14. Any officer or member of the Department who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to perform his duty, or shall be guilty of disobedience to his superior officer or officers, shall for such offence be suspended from the Department; and any officer or member who shall offend against any ordinance of the city relating to the Fire Department (the same to be determined by the Board of Commissioners), shall, in addition to the liability of suspension by the Chief Engineer, be also liable to a penalty of not less than five or more than ten dollars, to be decided by Commissioners, the same to be deducted from the monthly pay of the person so offending.

ART. 15. The Board, with the Chief and Assistant Engineers, will in the month of May, and quarterly thereafter, review the several companies of the Department in their respective houses.

ART. 16. The engine companies with their engines and carriages, and the hook and ladder companies, with their trucks, are required to be on the street within one and a half minutes after an alarm of fire has been received at their several houses. Failure to be out in two minutes, caused by absence of engineman, hostler or truckman, will be reported by the foreman, and subject the party so offending to a fine.

ART. 17. Absence from a fire or alarm of fire, without good and sufficient cause (the same to be determined by the Board of Commissioners) shall subject the party absenting himself to the following fines, viz:

Chief Engineer and Assistant	$3 00
Engineman	3 00
Foreman	3 00
Fireman, for first alarm	1 00
Fireman, for second alarm	2 00
Fireman, for third alarm	5 00
Fireman, for fourth alarm	Dismissal.

The same to be deducted from their monthly pay.

ART. 17. The hook and ladder companies will take position, when practicable, within the lines, and as near the fire as, under all circumstances, may be found convenient.

ART. 18. When the Chief Engineer shall find the fire so far reduced that one or all the companies may cease work, he shall dismiss them, or cause the same to be done.

ART. 19. Any company returning from a fire finding they have hose or other property which does not belong to them, shall immediately return the same to the company to which it belongs.

ART. 20. Racing to and from fires is not allowed under any circumstances, under penalty of dismissal, and if the apparatus of several companies proceed on the same street to or from a fire, they shall do so in single file.

A BOLD OPERATION.

Daylight Robbery and a Free Fight—Outsider Interferes and Gets into Trouble.

Two of the countless thieves who infest our city at present made a bold strike, Saturday afternoon, at Scott's jewelry store, No. 276 Liberty street, for the purpose of making a raise, but were disappointed, and then got up a free fight in order to effect their escape, in which they were only partially successful. About ten o'clock two men went into the store above mentioned and asked to see some plain gold rings whereupon the boy in attendance set out a tray containing the articles asked for and they commenced operations, their mode being to take out the genuine rings and replace them with worthless ones. Before they had got through with the job Mr. Scott, the proprietor, came to the door, and as the theives started to leave, stopped them. One of the villains struck him and the other joined in the attack. Mr. Robert Steel, proprietor of the Eagle hotel, hearing the noise, came to Mr. Scott's assistance, and secured one of the thieves, who at this time was on the sidewalk. Albert Barr, a drayman, who was passing at the time, thinking that there was free fight going on, could not resist the temptation to join in it, and without asking any questions, pulled the pin out of his dray and dealt Mr. Scott a blow on the head, felling him to the ground. Miss Steel and a young Mr. Steel, daughter and son of the old gentleman, seeing their father in trouble, rushed to his assistance, and the drayman dealt Miss Steel a blow on the head with a formidable instrument, the dray pin, which, however, was partially warded off by young Mr. Steel, who closed with the drayman and gave him a complete body-beating. One of the thieves who gave his name as William Edwards, alias Griffin, was arrested by officer Eckoff and conducted to the lock-up. Barr, the drayman, was also arrested, and Mr. Steel made information before the Mayor charging him with assault and battery, upon whibh charge he was held to bail for a hearing. Griffin is still in the lock-up.

How to Look Young—Sixteen.—Don't paint or use vile Hair Restorers, but simply apply Hagan's Magnolia Balm upon your face, neck and hands, and use Lyon's Kathairon upon your hair. The Balm makes your complexion pearly, soft and natural, and you can't tell what did it. It removes freckles, tan, sallowness, ring-marks, moth-patches, etc.; and in place of a red, rustic face, you have the marble purity of an exquisite belle. It gives to middle age the bloom of perpetual youth. Add these effects to a splendid head of hair produced by the Kathairon, and a lady has done her best in the way of adornment. Brothers will have no spinster sisters when these articles are around. T-TH-S

EVANGELICAL ALLIANCE.

Meeting Last Night—A Pittsburgh Branch Organized—What it is and who Compose it—List of Officers—Interesting Addresses.

Last evening, in response to public call, a large audience, representing members of the various Protestant denominations in this vicinity, assembled in the Third Presbyterian Church, (Rev. Noble's,) Sixth avenue, for the purpose of organizing a Pittsburgh branch to the Evangelical Alliance. This organization, which comprises delegates from all the Protestant Churches in Christendom, will hold its next meeting in New York, in October of the present year, and promises to be one of the largest and most important religious conventions ever held in this country. The purposes of it will be better explained by the Constitution appended below.

The meeting last night was called to order at half past seven o'clock by Rev. S. F. Scovel, who presided. The platform was occupied by about a dozen ministers, nearly every Protestant denomination being represented.

After the opening devotional exercises, conducted by Rev. W. D. Howard, addresses were delivered successively by Rev. J. H. Stuckenberg, Rev. G. P. Hays, Rev. S. H. Nesbitt, D. D., Editor of Pittsburgh Christian Advocate, Rev. S. J. Wilson, D. D., and Rev. Wm. Young. The addresses were all brief and were devoted to explanations of the object, and the importance of organizing a branch association. Rev. S. F. Scovel then read the following

CONSTITUTION

As the basis upon which the Pittsburgh branch was to be organized:

ART. 1. This organization shall be known as the Pittsburgh Branch of the Evangelical Alliance of the United States of America.

ART. 2. The objects of this Association are: to provote evangelical union with a view to greater success in Christian activity; to maintain and exhibit the essential unity of the Church of Christ; to counteract the influence of infidelity and superstition, especially in their organized forms; to assist the cause of religious freedom everywhere; to hold up the supreme authority of the Word of God; to urge the observance of the Lord's day, and to correct the immoral habits of society. To accomplish these ends it proposes to act as a Bureau of Correspondence and Information, obtaining facts and diffusing them, with such suggestions as may seem pertinent, always avoiding a dogmatic or legislative style, and "endeavoring to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace."

ART. 3. Any person may be introduced as a member of this branch of the alliance on his own application by signing the constitution and assenting to the principles, the basis and the objects of this Association.

ART. 4. The officers of this branch of the alliance shall be a President, ten Vice Presidents, Corresponding and Recording Secretaries and a Treasurer.

ART. 5. The business of this alliance shall be conducted by a Board of Councellors, including the executive officers and Vice Presidents, who shall be members ex-officio, any ten of whom shall constitute a quorum of a meeting when regularly convened; and all the officers and Councellors shall be elected annually by the alliance, shall be accountable to and subject to its instructions, and shall hold their places until the election of their successors. The members of the Board are empowered to fill their own vacancies, and shall meet by the appointment of the society, or on their own adjournment, or at the call of the President by the request of or with the consent of five Councillors; provided, in the case of every special meeting, due notice shall be given.

ART. 6. This branch of the alliance shall meet annually at such time and place as the Board may appoint.

ART. 7. This Constitution may be altered only at an annual meeting and by a vote of two-thirds of the members present, provided notice of the amendment be given at a previous annual meeting; unless the alteration be recommended by ten of the Board of Counsellors.

It was stated that this Constitution had been adopted by the originators of the movement in Pittsburgh by instructions received from the present organization in New York. All that was necessary, therefore, under it to perfect the organization of the branch was the election of officers. The following names were submitted:

President—Felix R. Brunot.
Recording Secretary—F. K. Cree.
Corresponding Secretary—R. F. Scovel.
Treasurer—John F. Holmes.
Cancellors—Rev. F. A. Noble, Rev. J. T. Pressly D. D., Rev. John Douglass D. D., Rev. J. C. Pershing D. D., Rev. Wm. M. Young, and Messrs. C. Yeager, W. E. Schmertz, Thos. J. Trouth, Hon. Robert McKnight, Rev. H. H. Garnett.

The list as read was unanimously approved. Rev. F. A. Noble was called upon for an address but declined, owing to the lateness of the hour.

The audience then engaged in singing the Doxology and was dismissed with the benediction by Rev. Dr. Preston.

[Announcement.]

Pittsburgh—Its Industry and Commerce.

This is the title of a volume in press, which is intended to supply a want—to bring producer and consumer into more intimate contact. The plan upon which the volume is constructed places the most reliable data accessible to experienced journalists, in regard to the industry and commerce of Pittsburgh, side by side with the advertising announcements of the representative manufacturing establishments and business houses of the city, and of the districts immediately adjacent thereto. In preparing the history of the manufactures, their past growth and present prosperity, the utmost care has been exercised in obtaining and collating facts. A history of the manufacturing industries of Pittsburgh, commensurate to their importance and influence on the prosperity of the city, State and nation, has never been published. The object of this volume is to supply the want. Among the subjects treated in separate papers, prepared with the closest scrutiny, are the following:

Pittsburgh To-day.
Development and Extent of the Coal Trade.
The Iron Interest.
The Glass Manufactures.
Pittsburgh the Producer of American Steel.
The Petroleum Interests of Pittsburgh.
Our Railways, Present and Prospective.
The White Lead Interest.
The Malleable Iron Trade.
The Tobacco Trade.
Boat Building and Steamboat Interest.

The publishers propose to place a copy of the volume in the leading hotels of those portions of the Union which are in the slightest degree tributary to the trade of Pittsburgh, also in the various leading libraries, commercial agencies, and steamboats on the Ohio and Mississippi. The bulk of the edition will be circulated in the States West and South of Pennsylvania, with an ample circulation at advantageous points in our own State and Eastern cities. The volume will be printed and bound in a style not hitherto approached in Pittsburgh. This fact, and the value of its statistical and historical information will secure its preservation long after the usual advertising agences are consigned to the waste paper basket, while it will afford to the merchants and dealers of other cities and localities a convenient, safe and reliable record of the representative manufacturing and business establishments of Pittsburgh.

Canvassers will call upon manufacturers and business men for their advertisement during the ensuing week.

IT is reported that the Republicans of Virginia intend appealing to Congress for supplemental reconstruction, because the Conservatives are inciting outrages against the colored Republicans, and are endeavoring to intimidate them from registering. He was taken up and conveyed to the Park Hotel, where Mr. Abner, the proprietor, did all in his power to minister to his relief. At an early hour Wednesday morning intelligence was received that he was gradually sinking, and late in the afternoon of that day the daring gymnast expired.

WHISPERINGS OF THE FICKLE GODDESS.

THE fashionable hooped skirts are very small, nearly straight, and have a small bustle shaped out at the back.

THE little breeze respecting the abandonment of short dresses for the street has died away, and the short dresses remain.

LONG lace veils, slightly pointed in front, are worn with bonnets this summer instead of the short veils which have been so popular.

OUTFITS and traveling dresses are in universal demand, and many inquiries are made as to what is required for visits to a greater or less distance, and of longer or shorter duration.

A TRAVELING dress of alpaca or Tak cloth, a short black silk suit, not necessarily new, and one trained silk dress are sufficient to start with upon a European tour, with the addition of a jacket or two, for neglige, and an "Adirondack."

IT is not considered at all necessary to provide an extensive wardrobe upon going to Europe, as the chance of hobnobbing with royalty, or even with common dukes or duchesses, has been found to be generally remote, and it is, moreover, "carrying coals to Newcastle."

THERE is quite a little rage just now among very distinguished ladios for black toilettes for church wear. The dress of rich gros grains is almost covered by a wattau of black lace, and, with its mantille veil or lace lappets, gives quite a conventional as well as grand effect to the toilette. Younger ladies soften the effect of their black silk church suits by adding a wide sash of blue gros grain and a blue silk scarf at the throat.

FOR jewelry the Japanese enamels, with figures of dragons or birds with crests of inlaid stones, are in favor. Some are cased so as to show the enamel design upon the interior also; their prevailing colors are blue, green and yellow. The heart-shaped lockets with cases of plain blue or black enamel, ornamented with inlaid designs of gold, or various stones, as diamonds, rubies or pearls, meet with a steady sale among our leading houses.

THE Empress Eugenie does not originate the fashions, neither do any ladies of real rank and distinction; they adopt them, and thus set the seal of their acknowledged authority upon them, but no lady would be the first to wear a striking novelty, or a style so new or so outre as to be likely to attract public attention. This is left for the leaders of the demi monde, several of whom are in the pay of Parisian dressmakers and modistes.

THE latest robe de contrat is of pink gros grain or turquoise blue for a blond. The skirt is demi-train, and trimmed with a broad flounce of Valenciennes lace. The tunic is of very pure white muslin with revers lined with silk and bordered with lace. The front breadth of the skirt is trimmed with a tablier of muslin bouillonnee, divided by rows of Valenciennes lace. The silk bodice is ornamented with brettelles of Valenciennes lace, and a very wide silk sash falls over the light folds of the tunic.

SUMMER suits are nearly all made of white or buff linen, pique, cambric, or muslin, and the art of preserving the new appearance after washing is a matter of the greatest importance. Common washerwomen spoil everything with soda, and nothing is more frequent than to see the delicate tints of lawns and percales turned into dark blotches and muddy streaks by the ignorance and vandalism of a laundress. It is worth while for ladies to pay attention to this, and insist upon having their summer dresses washed according to the directions which they should be prepared to give their laundresses themselves. In the first place, the water should be tepid, the soap should not be allowed to touch the fabric; it should be washed and rinsed quick, turned upon the wrong side, and hung in the shade to dry, and when starched (in thin boiled, but not boiling, starch) should be folded in sheets or towels, and ironed upon the wrong side as soon as possible. Buff linen should be washed in water in which hay has been boiled, or a quart bag of bran. This last will be found to answer for starch as well, and is excellent for print dresses of all kinds; but a handful of salt is also very useful also to set the colors of light cambrics and dotted lawns; and a little beef's gall will not only set but heighten yellow and purple tints, and has a good effect upon green.

TWO GLASSES, one filled with water, the other with ale, stood before us the other day—such incidents frequently recur to us—and while the flies attacked the ale rigorously, the water remained unmolested. A friend explained the reason, "even a fly knows what is good for his health." We forgot to say it was Pier, Dannals & Co.'s Cream Ale.

PLANING MILL MEN

And Others,

TAKE NOTICE!

The undersigned has letters patent of the United States for the improved construction of weather-boarding, inside lining and of wainscoting for houses. The weather-boarding, by this patent improvement, being more particularly intended for vertical use, and combines great durability and beauty of appearance; and it is so constructed as to entirely avoid the use of joint strips, and to prevent water from entering the joint of the gaping or the showing of the joints by the action of the weather on the timber.

Inside lining and wainscoting by this new method are so constructed as to form perfect panels as cheaply as by the ordinary flooring boards alone; thereby preventing the showing of the joints from any cause, and leaving no refuges for bugs.

He has also purchased the patent right of what is commonly known as the "Moulded Weather-boarding."

He has disposed of the following territorial and shop rights in Allegheny county, for both patents, to wit:

To G. A. Mundorff, the right of the territory south of the river in said county.

To McQuewan & Douglass, the right for the First ward, Pittsburgh.

To Hill, Patterson & Co., shop rights for their mill, Sixth ward, Pittsburgh.

To Alex. McClure, for the borough of McKeesport.

To Parker & Paul, for First, Second, Third and Fourth wards, city of Allegheny.

To Reed Brothers, shop right at their mill in Seventh ward, city of Allegheny.

To Dunham, Saint & Co., for the boroughs of Sharpsburg and Etna; also the townships of Shaler and Indiana.

All persons are warned against infringing upon either of said patents, and those wishing to purchase will please call, or address me, at No. 75 Smithfield street, Pittsburgh, Pa.
